HOW TO READ THIS SCORECARD

This scorecard contains five (5) scored domains. Recruitment, Candidate Performance, Placement, Retention, and Graduate Performance. Each domain is comprised of two (2) to four (4) metrics. There is one domain (Perceptions) for which data has not yet been collected, and is therefore unscored. A program must generate a score on at least one metric in the Graduate Performance domain in order to merit a scorecard.

Delaware's scorecards consider the past five years of program data. Data on graduates that have not worked in public education in Delaware is not included. A scorecard is generated when an educator preparation program has had more than ten (10) educators working in Delaware over the past five (5) years.

Program performance is displayed for each metric in the format to the right. The program data is displayed to the left of and above the bar. If the program scores below minimum standard, it earns zero points for the metric. If it scores at or above the state target, it receives all the points for the metric. Within the established range, the program earns a proportional share of the points available.

This scorecard is preliminary and thus without formal regulatory consequences in 2015. The information should not be utilized by schools, districts, or students to render judgment or make formal decisions pertaining to application, admissions, or staffing.
