•	My length can't be measured. I have a start but no end.
I have no size (no width, length, or thickness).	I am a part of a line that is bounded by two points.
I am a line that is bounded by one point but goes on in the other direction.	l am a set of points arranged in a straight way. I extend infinitely in two directions.
l often have one dot and one arrow to show that l go on in one direction.	My length can't be measured. I have no start and no end.
•	l have a specific length.
l am usually represented by a dot or a circle.	•——
I often have arrows to show that I keep going in two directions.	l am a location.
	l am often shown with two dots or with no dots.