

RED LAND HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. Winn, Mr. Frawley, and Mr. Snelbaker presented in Atlanta, this week at the Personalized Learning Conference Southeast. Their presentation explored, "how students in one suburban high school are getting credit for math, science and technology education by attending this multi-period, multi-disciplinary classroom named after the Renaissance artist and inventor. Classroom teachers will share their research, design, implementation and day-to-day activities of this program in its second year."

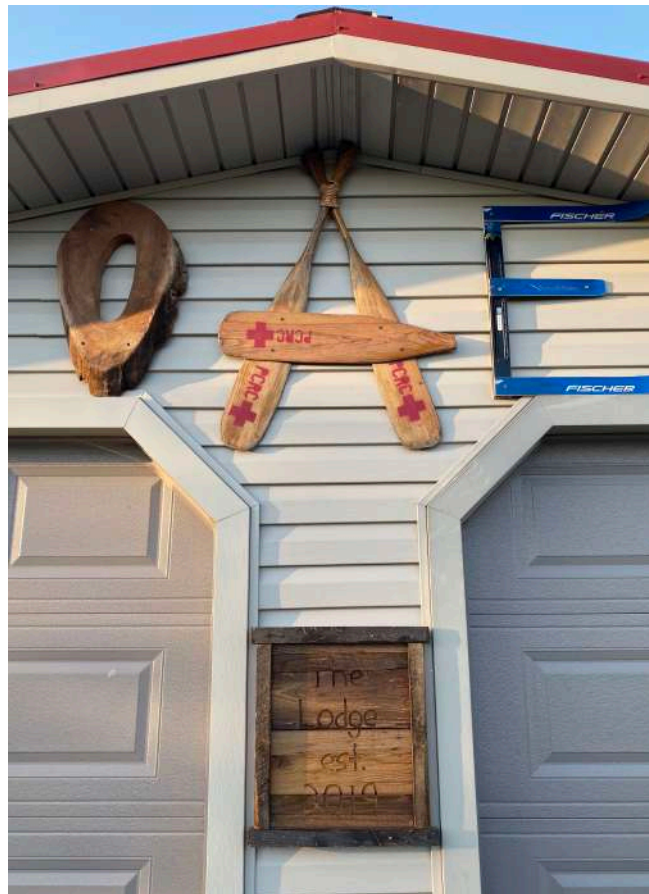

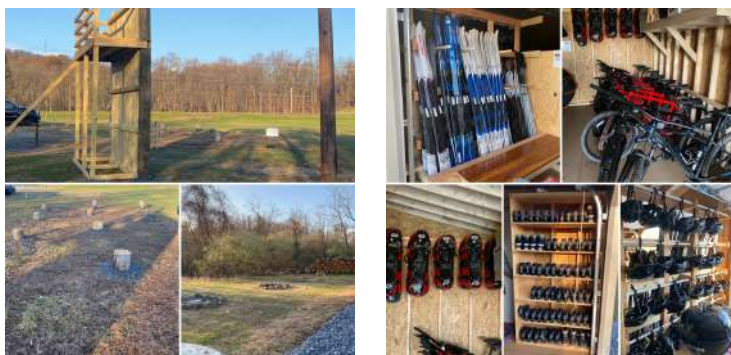

We look forward to learning about their presentation, and how we will continue to grow their program.

OUTDOOR ADVENTURE EDUCATION (OAE)

Mr. Eric White and Mr. Chad Weaver have been working hard preparing our new Physical Education program that will be offered in the 2020-2021 school year. This course will include education in teaching leadership and programming skills in outdoor adventure. This will include; hiking, camping, backpacking, kayaking, canoeing, basic survival skills, group dynamics, safety, risk management, accessibility, and environmental ethics. Please let us know when you would enjoy a tour of the "lodge" and the trails!

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY INDUCTION

Wednesday, November 20, 2019, Red Land High School welcomed their newest members of the National Honor Society into our chapter. We would like to congratulate these young women and men. Their hard work, grit, and effort have earned them a place of honor amongst those that came before them.

RLHS CAREER EXPLORATION EXPO

To help students prepare for life after school, staff and business partners organized an incredible day for Red Land students.

In addition to exploring careers and discussing budgeting, credit, and insurance; students also participated in Adulting 101 demonstrations on self defense, sewing, cooking, auto maintenance, interview skills, manners, anxiety, and happiness.

While ninth grade students visited Harrisburg University of Science and Technology, tenth grade students took the ASVAB, eleventh grade students participated in Junior Achievement of South Central PA financial literacy programs, and seniors were given time to complete their job shadowing.

These are so many people who made today a success:

- Fairview Township Police Department
- Pennsylvania State Police Department
- Bobby Rahal Toyota
- Handyside Plumbing, HVAC and Electrical
- Helmick Environmental Services, Inc.
- Kyle Nornhold of Re/Max
- Wintermyer Auto Salvage, Inc.
- Lobar Inc.
- Aubrey Graeser; Dealing with Anxiety
- Trish Klinger; Understanding Insurance
- Leslie Schaefer & Thomas Moore, Cooking Basics
- Lyn Dorsey & Jeff Gonce; Building Happiness
- Alison Gonce & Scott Slayton; Interview Skills
- Karen Martin & Tena Wolfe; Sewing Basics
- Kyle Wagner; Understanding Credit
- Starr Ariola & Jamie Snyder; Manners

- Caitlin Shepski & Rob Starrett; Self Defense
- Erin Gay & Thomas Peifer; CPR
- Josh Ament, Eric Healey, Zach Moody (12th grader), Gavin Lutz (12th grader), and Heather Wolfe; Auto Skills

RLHS would like to extend a big thank you to the following teachers that made this day happen; Mr. Frank Gay, Ms. Heather Wolfe, Mrs. Taylor Wiggins, and Ms. Aubrey Graeser. Thank you for making this vision a reality for all students of Red Land.

RLHS HIGHLIGHTS

PMEA DISTRICT 7 CHORUS FESTIVAL: Three Red Land students scored within the top 25 singers of their voice part and will be representing RL at the PMEA District 7 Chorus Festival in January: Mayson Bryant, Isaac Elmet, and Reagan Starrett. Congratulations!

TRADING CARD CLUB: We are now offering a Trading Card Club that is currently meeting once a month but will increase in frequency with attendance. Students can play a game they already know or learn from the experts. Currently being played is Magic the Gathering, Pokemon trading card game, Yu-Gi-Oh! and...Uno.

HONORS ART: Honors art students have presented their project plan ideas for their installation projects in various areas in RLHS. The main objective is to develop a permanent or semi-permanent piece of artwork that is site-specific to transform the perception of an already existing space and to extend the "art space" beyond the walls of the art room. As these projects develop, we'll make sure to share more pictures!

JOURNALISM / SCHOOL PAPER: As Mr. Washburn's Journalism I class was planning out their next edition of the student newspaper, he was so pleased with how the students took the reins and lead the discussion themselves. The students were excited to share a collective idea they discussed, focused on a center-spread page in the paper focusing all on one topic. Wil Nester (grade 11) took the lead and leapt up to the white board grabbing a pen and diagramming how they envisioned the layout of the page and how we could fill an entire page with articles all focusing on the same topic (our the bathroom situation). It was refreshing to see students get excited about an idea, and so openly sharing their opinions on the matter, as well as, be active participants in the brainstorming process. It also shows that they are taking ownership of the school paper.

Other students involved in the impromptu student-lead group brainstorm were Yousuf Eldessouky (11), Chloe Hartman (9), Emily Killian (10), Abigail Kitchen (11), Shailyn McLean (12), and Miranda Glover (10).

SPANISH: My Spanish level ones and threes painted their Day of the Dead pumpkins and we learned about the customs and traditions of this Mexican holiday.

RLHS HIGHLIGHTS CONTINUED

SPANISH 5: My Spanish level 5 students helped to prepare and cook an authentic 6 course Spanish meal at the Kitchen Shoppe in Carlisle. They ate pan de muerto (day of the dead bread) and learned about spices used in Spanish cooking. They had a wonderful time!

BUTTERFLY GARDEN: New delivery of mulch has been installed in butterfly garden. Student helpers included volunteers from Ms. Hartman's Biology classes, and flexes. Special thanks to Zack Seiders, aka Otis, who served as student supervisor of the fall clean-up and beautification of the garden.

MOLYMPICS: Red Land's AP Chemistry and Chemistry II Inorganic classes participated in the Molympics this year on Mole Day, October 23rd. We earned a tie for 8th place internationally!

RED LAND KEY CLUB: The Red Land Key Club hosted their annual story-time night for elementary students in our district. The event had a farm theme and included hay bale snacks with milk, farm stories, farm games, and a farm craft. Around 40 elementary students attended along with an amazing group of high school Key Clubbers to participate in this free event.

FACULTY SPAGHETTI LUNCH

The Life Skills/Autism support classes hosted a spaghetti lunch for the faculty at Red Land to say "Thank You" for their continued support of the two programs. All staff were invited to the lunch, but the students also invited selected staff members to have lunch with them. The students prepared the meal for everyone and used their social skills to assist and serve those in attendance. They also used their conversational skills during the event and worked on proper table etiquette.

NATIONAL LETTER OF INTENT

Congratulations to the following Red Land student athletes that committed to their future universities.

Baseball

Kyle Hannon – Penn State
Jaden Henline – Penn State
Luke Wagner- Georgia

Field Hockey

Rachel Apa – Bucknell
Sydney Stupka – Kutztown

Women's Soccer

Anna Midock – Jefferson University
Emma Misal – Rutgers

FBLA

On November 3rd & 4th, the Red Land FBLA Officers and Committee Chairs traveled to the Kalahari Resort in the Poconos to attend the PA FBLA State Leadership Workshop. The officers and leaders attended workshops on subjects such as Communication, Entrepreneurship, FBLA Chapter Leadership, Business Leadership, Technology and College & Career topics. In addition to the workshops, the officers were able to network with over 1,500 FBLA members and advisers from across the Commonwealth. The officers were also able to enjoy some leisure time in the country's largest indoor water park on Sunday night after the Keynote and general session. The theme for this conference was titled, "Leadership Wins Championships" and all the officers enjoyed learning about opportunities that are available to FBLA members in their chapter. The offices returned with great ideas to lead and WIN!
