

Summer Connections: Literacy

Lloyd Harbor School

Summer Reading Celebration 2012 Incoming Second Graders

Lloyd Harbor School is a community of readers and writers. We anticipate that our students will regularly read books that are a good personal fit and continue to enjoy favorite titles and authors throughout the summer months. Also, suggested reading choices can be found on the District website at www.csh.k12.ny.us under Lloyd Harbor/Home Communications.

As part of a school-wide literacy celebration of summer reading, all students are asked to return in September, ready to share their thoughts on a particular book selected for their grade. The second grade teachers have chosen the book,

Redwoods, by Jason Chin

Please refer to the reverse side for a brief synopsis of this book. Redwoods* is intended to be read aloud by a parent/guardian to his/her child. Students will need to complete the reading response form (attached) and be prepared to share their drawing with their class in September.

We are looking forward to learning from each other about the books we have read when we return to school in the fall.

Happy Summer Reading!
