

2019 EQUITY IN EDUCATION CONFERENCE TOPICS (Translating Theory and Research to Practice)

Research	Application	Roundtable
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Critical Pedagogy and Critical Race Theory in teaching diversity in Counselor Education • The Inalienable Duo: Adequacy and Equity in K-12 Public Education Funding in South Carolina • Exploring Relationships Between a Teacher's Career Stage and Receptiveness to Noticing School-based Inequities • A case for culturally relevant science education in the summer for African American Youth 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Hip Hop African American History • Integrating Culturally Relevant Pedagogy in Science • Using Personal Narratives and Counternarratives within the English Classroom • "Nobody's free until we're all free": Culturally relevant teaching as action for justice • Critical Pedagogy and Critical Race Theory in teaching diversity in Counselor Education • Social Justice Pedagogy in the Foreign Language Classroom • Teaching in Culturally Relevant and Sustaining Ways with Young Learners • Humans, Not Heroes: Teachers' Implementation of Culturally Relevant Pedagogy in Music Classrooms • Integration of Hip-Hop Ed in a suburban High School (Science) • Building a Framework of Equity: A Leader's Moral and Ethical Responsibility • African Dancing • SC 63—Teaching About Civil Rights and Freedom • Making Learning Attainable for All. All Means All • African Dance • Glass Beyond Privilege: White teacher candidates and transformative anti-racism pedagogy in the academy • Rooted Love, Critical Consciousness and Reflective Praxis: Reimagining Schools of Education • Using African Diaspora Literacy to Enhance Teaching Concepts and Ideas in Higher Education Classrooms • Creating and Sustaining African Diaspora literacy in Middle School Classrooms • Critical Special Education • Teaching The Hate You Give: Cultural Relevant for Young People of Color in the Classroom • Critical Social Studies 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Knowing Your Why: Understanding Your Role in Teaching About Diversity