SECTION 4 Verifying Your Disability

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) defines a disability as a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities, having a record of such impairment, or being regarded as having such an impairment.

It is your responsibility as the individual requesting reasonable accommodation(s) to provide appropriate documentation that verifies the accommodations your disability requires to participate in the assessment process. This Agency reserves the right to verify the authenticity of any documentation submitted to it for this purpose. Please be advised that specific accommodations recommended in any documentation will be evaluated with an understanding that there may be multiple ways to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities. In other words, you may be offered an accommodation that differs from what was recommended in your documentation.

After receipt of your documentation, up to two (2) weeks will be needed to provide adequate time to review the documentation and verify the nature and the extent of your disability, and to identify appropriate accommodation(s). If the requested accommodation(s) would change the essential nature of the assessment or impose an undue burden, all or part of the assessment may not be accommodated. A WorkKeys'' Center representative will contact you to schedule a meeting to discuss your situation and to schedule the date for you to take the assessment.
