SUPERINTENDENT'S COMMENTS

- Celebration of Excellence
- Excellence in Academics
- Space Camp Scholarship Winners - Two students from McMurray Elementary have been selected to receive the Space Camp Scholarship from the Intermediate Unit 1 Educational Foundation. Gemma Clark (5th grade) and Aarna Patel (4th grade) were selected and will attend Space Camp in Huntsville, Alabama. The one-week camp includes hands-on learning opportunities in the areas of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM), as well as astronaut training activities. The scholarship competition was open to female students in Washington County between the ages of 9-11 years old.
- Missing Snowmen in 5th Grade: Fifth grade students on Team Luna are writing creative essays about a missing snowman. To go along with their writing, they also crafted a likeness of their snowman to aid in the search.
- Grinch Day At Bower Hill - Second grade celebrated Grinch Day in December. Students read the story, got Grinch slime (thanks to the PTA), discussed what kinds of things would help the Grinch grow his heart 3 sizes (doing good deeds for others, etc.) and were even visited by the real Grinch!
- Santa Math At Bower Hill - Bower Hill 3rd graders in Mrs. Kiswardy's and Mrs. Powell's room worked as partners in December on a very important project! The students had to complete different ELA or Math challenges to move their Santa hats and unlock the North Pole.
- Alumna Visits High School Media Department - This month the PTHS Media Department welcomed PTHS 2004 graduate, Melissa Moretti at the school. Melissa is not only a PT grad, but also a graduate of Robert Morris University with a degree in Media/TV Production. She met with a group of media students and shared her experience working for Disney/ABC for the past fifteen years, where she is currently a line producer for ABC's The View.

- Phabulous Physics Phun Phest – The day before Winter Break were filled with physics challenges including projectiles, can rolling, a flight challenge and spaghetti towers. The can rolling competition resulted in more than 1,100 items being donated to the Washington Food Pantry as well.
- Bower Hill Stem Bees Make Snow - Our Bower Hill STEM Bees created "snow" with slime last month and designed their own snowflakes made with marshmallows and toothpicks in the afterschool class. The Yoga Bees were also busy at Bower Hill making bookmarks that they hid in library books for other students to find. These little "elves" wanted to celebrate the joy of reading with others.
- Middle School German Guest Speaker – Middle School German students visited with Inga Krueztzmann last month. Inga is a German exchange student who spent time talking with the middle schoolers about Holiday traditions in Germany.
- Polar Express Comes To Peters Township – The Polar Express made a stop at Pleasant Valley and Bower Hill for the holidays. Kindergarten students made the trip to the North Pole (via the school hallways) in their pajamas to hear the magical holiday story. Students in grades 1-3 took part by lining the hallways and wishing their younger classmates well on their journey.
- Spanish Alumni Visit PTHS – Former Spanish students stopped by the High School to talk with current students. Some were recent grads, but some dated back to the class of 2012. Whether they were studying Spanish in college, using their knowledge of Spanish in social situations or teaching the language at Penn State University, their experiences provided great insights for our current students.
- Gift Of Reading At Bower Hill – Third grade students at Bower Hill visited first grade classrooms in December to give them the “gift of reading.” Older students were paired with a younger one to share a story along with a gift bag full of items that helped to describe the plot of their story. The love of reading starts early in Peters Township!
- Ugly Holiday Sweaters At McMurray - Parents of students in Mrs. DeSalvo's and Mrs. Farabaugh's homerooms were invited to join their child in the makerspace at McMurray this month to use their creativity to create "Ugly Sweaters." Students and their parents then worked together to write a creative story on "How Your Ugly Sweater became The Ugly Sweater"!
- German Pen Pal Delivery - Middle School students in Mr. Wilkinson's class are participating in a Pen Pal Exchange Program with students in English classes in Delbrück, Germany - using vocabulary and phrases they've learned in class to communicate with other middle schoolers 4,000 miles away! Today they received their latest letters... along with authentic Haribo gummy bears and German cookies sent by the German students!
- PTMS Spelling Bee – The Annual Middle School Spelling Bee took place last week and 8th grader Jackson Hegedus took home the honor of Spelling Bee Champion after a thrilling finish with second place runner-up and fellow 8th grader, Lukas Hartman. Jackson and Lukas battled back and forth for multiple final rounds until eventually, Jackson secured the victory with the winning word “calcitonin.” Overall, 47 contestants took part in the event organized by teacher Nicole Mitchell.
- McMurray Stem Challenge - McMurray students in Mrs. Farabaugh's classes recently participated in a STEM challenge where they had to build the tallest possible tower out of only popsicle sticks and clothespins. Students worked in groups to create strategies and problem solve their building issues.

- High School Band Director Visits Pleasant Valley - PTHS Band Director David Young visited Pleasant Valley in December to share his experience marching in the Thanksgiving Day Parade in NYC with students in Mrs. Williams' class. He talked about the preparation and the practice - and even his 1:00 a.m. wake up call the day of the parade for middle of the night practicing.
- McMurray Career Fair – In December, McMurray Elementary held Career Day with our 4th and 5th grade students rotating through a variety of career opportunities throughout the morning. Careers represented included engineering, marketing, nursing, finance, computer coding and pharmacy. Many thanks to the many parents and community volunteers who gave their time to share their career journey with the students.
- Pleasant Valley Economics Fair – Following their study of economic principals, 3rd grade students at Pleasant Valley were challenged to create their own products. Students not only produced their products, but they had to market them with their own advertising and sales plan to their classmates. Following the presentations, classmates had some time to “shop” the mall and purchase the other products.

Excellence in the Arts

- Gingerbread Art at PTMS - Middle School Art students in Mrs. Harrison's class made gingerbread houses from recycled materials following their study of architecture in art class. Teams displayed their houses in the hallways prior to the break for teachers to vote for their favorites and the top 3 were on display in the Township Library Youth Section over the holidays!
- Holiday Skits at Bower Hill – Third graders in Mrs. Dyer and Mrs. Barson's class performed three holiday skits for parents. Our special guests learned how the reindeer got their names, found the spirit of the holiday with the Scrooge and saw a tricky gingerbread man get outsmarted by a polar bear!
