Ennis Junior High School offers dropout prevention via our PRIDE program. The PRIDE program on campus serves students that are at risk of dropping out and are in need of credit recovery.

The AVID program has helped many students begin to consider college as a post-graduate plan. These students will be the first in their families to graduate from high school and attend college.

School Processes & Programs

School Processes & Programs Summary

Ennis Junior High is a campus that houses grades 7 & 8. All students are scheduled for 4 grade specific core classes (ELAR, Math, Social Studies, and Science), as well as 3 non-grade specific elective classes and a 30 minute intervention/enrichment period. Each grade level receives inclusion support from a special education Math & ELAR teacher as well as Special Education paraprofessionals who provide support in Social Studies and Science. There is one team leader representing each subject as well as a grade/subject representative for the alternate grade level. Faculty meetings are scheduled at a minimum of once a month with a tentative schedule provided during teacher in-service. Meetings may be called that are not scheduled, but are essential for the campus operation. Weekly PLC meetings are held per grade-leveled departments to better utilize resources in our lesson plans. All teachers are scheduled with a duty to help with supervision in the afternoons. Paraprofessionals and administrators provide supervision in the morning before school. Teachers and administrators share the responsibility of daily lunch duty supervision. All teachers and paraprofessionals are required to clock in and out daily to ensure that 40 hours are being documented properly. All staff members are required to enter absences through AESOP, the district provided program to easily record employee attendance. There are several opportunities for staff to join campus and district committees, this allows for an accurate representation of grade levels and departments.

School Processes & Programs Strengths

EJHS has a mentor teacher program and new teacher focus groups for first year teachers. EJHS supports teachers by providing frequent professional development opportunities, regularly scheduled PLC meetings, and providing resources for new instructional strategies.

The administrative staff is relatively new to their current position with all having diverse backgrounds. For the 2024-2025 school year the campus will have major turnover in key support staff positions.

Ennis Junior High School follows a well written and enforceable student code of conduct. Communication with parents focuses on an "open door" policy and extends to Positive Parent Contacts made each 9 weeks.

Ennis ISD has a very well maintained technology infrastructure. The Network is secure and is rarely impacted by a loss of functionality. EJHS enjoys a technology rich campus where all classrooms are equipped with Smart boards, document cameras, and projectors as well as a teacher workstation. The one to one Chrome Book initiative is a major selling point for EISD as we move forward with our technology program for our students. The Junior High School campus is wireless throughout the building. The campus is a hot spot where students and the community can access the district wifi even outside the building. In addition to the one-to-one program, Ennis Junior High School has several labs that are located throughout the campus. The technology work ticket system works very well and issues are resolved in a timely manner.

Perceptions

Perceptions Summary

Ennis ISD partners with many of the civic groups that benefit the community of Ennis. The EJHS NJHS and STUCO as well as members of the Lions athletic teams (including Cheer and Band) participate in community events throughout the year. An expectation of the district is for administrators of the district to attend community and school events throughout the year. The principal of Ennis Junior High School will be an active member of the community. Ennis ISD is involved in events sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce such as the Polka Fest, Bluebonnet Festival, and Relay for Life.

Ennis Junior High School's extra-curricular activities are very well supported by the parents of the children involved. EJHS hosts open house events for the entire campus and for parents of incoming 7th grade students, class course selection, and exiting 8th grade students and parents. Parents are encouraged to be involved in their support organizations for the groups in which their students participate such as athletics, NJHS, STUCO, and Band Booster organizations.

Perceptions Strengths

The culture and climate at Ennis Junior High continues to embrace the changing student demographics. We strive to provide an inviting atmosphere that will allow staff, students and parents to be stakeholders in the educational process. EJH students and faculty are proud of the history of academic excellence and the spirit of "family" that exists between the school and the community. The EJH faculty believes the campus is staffed with nurturing individuals who work to make learning engaging for all students. The faculty is dedicated to making a positive impact in the lives of all students in order to help them grow academically, socially, and emotionally.

In recent years, EJHS has raised its levels of academic performance while many of its programs have continued to flourish. EJHS students continue to make the Ennis Community proud through the strong CTE, UIL Academics, and UIL Athletic tradition.

In addition to the traditional UIL sanctioned extra-curricular activities, EJHS has a wide range of other organizations and clubs in which students can be involved. EJHS Admin takes a fairly open stance on student clubs - If there are students that are interested in a topic or cause, have an adult staff member that is willing to act as a sponsor, and if the subject matter or mission of the organization is not contrary to the community standards of Ennis or the district, then new student clubs will be approved.
