Welcome to the 2024-25 school year! As an educator of 28 years, I believe whole child education is vital to academic success. That means we will support your child socially and emotionally, so they can reach their full potential as a learner. We look forward to meeting your students where they are and watching them grow throughout the 24-25 school year. A few ways we plan to accomplish this is through our proficiency-based model and continuing our Leader in Me journey. The proficiency-based model will allow us to personalize the learning to meet better meet students' needs. Leader in Me is an evidence-based model to build leadership and life skills in students by educating the WHOLE child. There are over 5,000 Leader in Me schools in all 50 states and in over 50 countries" (<https://www.leaderinme.org/>).

As a product of Rock Hill Schools, I am thrilled to continue as the Director of RHVA. This is my 27th year in the District and I am proud to call Rock Hill home. I began my career with Rock Hill School District at Northwestern High School as a Social Studies teacher. After serving as a Program Coordinator and Assistant Principal at NHS, I became Principal at Rawlinson Road Middle School. I have learned so much throughout these experiences and I look forward to continuing my professional growth working with the RHVA.

Warm Regards,

Criteria for FLEX

Attend class Monday-Thursday

Complete assignments

Maintain a minimum class average of 75.

Students who meet the above criteria will be able to work asynchronously on Fridays. Students who need extra support or who DO NOT meet the criteria will attend class for live instruction. This will be an opportunity for small-group instruction and reteaching to ensure our learners are successful.

*Attendance will be taken on Fridays (Asynchronous students will be counted as present by completing assigned work).

Synchronous Learning

RHVA will be using a combination of synchronous and asynchronous learning. Synchronous learning refers to a method of learning in which a group of participants is engaged in learning at the same time. There is real-time interaction with other people, therefore, the Zoom conference platform makes this possible because students can interact with the instructor and other participants. Our students will begin each day with synchronous learning. Asynchronous learning is where students will work on their own to ensure mastery is taking place. This time will be during our Flex Fridays and after live instruction has ended each day.

Additionally, synchronous learning requires:

- ❖ Students log in each school day to meet with a virtual teacher.
- ❖ Flexible class structures, including but not limited to, small group instruction, individual conferencing, and interventions.
- ❖ Teachers collaborate with parents/guardians primarily through emails, messages within the learning platform (Canvas), virtual conferencing tools, or by phone call if necessary. When needed, teachers are available for virtual support and interaction.

General Middle School Grading Guidelines for Students and Families

Rock Hill Schools grading guidelines are designed to ensure all students in the district are evaluated using a consistent, fair, and equitable grading system across classrooms and schools. Grading procedures in Rock Hill Schools reflect the following beliefs:

- ❖ Grades should reflect student proficiency on grade level standards and competencies, as well as clear learning targets.
- ❖ Grades should be balanced and reflect quality over quantity.
- ❖ Feedback is critical to student learning and grades alone are not a sufficient form of feedback.

Major assignments and assessments make up 60% of a student's final quarter grade. Minor assignments and assessments make up 40% of a student's final quarter grade.

The purpose of homework is to provide students independent practice on skills or previously taught content. When homework is assigned, teachers should consider students' instructional levels and ensure homework is purposeful. At the middle school level, homework is not graded. Teachers will reward students for homework completion, but not penalize them.

Per district policy, all high school credit-bearing courses in middle school (including Algebra 1, English 1, Spanish 1, and Discovering Computer Science) will give a final exam at the end of the full course which counts 20% of a student's overall grade in the course.

The classroom teacher will provide students with details regarding the number and type of assignments and assessments, as well as how students and families may access information about grades in the course.

Students and families should contact the classroom teacher with any questions or concerns about grades.

Re-teaching/Reassessment

This policy applies to major assessments or assignments only.

The goal of retaking tests or assessments in middle school is for students to obtain and demonstrate mastery of course content. Students will be provided an opportunity for reassessments only after re-teaching. Re-teaching occurs when the teacher or student determines that the student is not meeting learning goals. Re-teaching can occur with a teacher's face-to-face instruction, computer-based instruction, or additional practice opportunities at home.

Reassessment opportunities are only available to students who score below a 75. If a student wishes to retake a major assignment, he/she will have five days from when the initial score is posted in Canvas to request the reassessment from his/her teacher. Students who are offered the opportunity to retake an assessment must complete it by a date communicated by the teacher. The following assessments/tasks indicate a final measure of learning and may not be reassessed:

- End of course or semester exam;
- An assessment that ends an instructional period such as cumulative assessment;
- Benchmark or midterm exam;

- Final research paper, report, or essay; or Culminating project or performance.

When reassessment is offered, students scoring below the standard will have one opportunity to retake for a maximum grade of 75. In middle schools, this rule applies to all courses, including those taken for high school credit.

Make-Up Work

No late penalty is assessed if the graded assignment is due to a lawful absence. It is the student's responsibility to contact their teachers about make-up work upon return to school and within three days of return at maximum. The number of days allowed to submit late work is equal to the number of days the student was absent plus one additional day. If the student has prior knowledge of the assignment, he/she is responsible for making up the assignment immediately upon return unless arrangements have been made with the teacher. Parents and students may also access Canvas from the school's home page. Canvas provides access to class work and assignments, as well as due dates via the calendar. Students may ask teachers questions through their inbox.

Academic Honesty

All middle school students are expected to maintain academic honesty in their schoolwork and learning. Grades – in part – are a reflection of academic honesty and learning. When a student becomes involved in cheating (including plagiarism or any behavior which could invalidate a graded assignment) the first time in a given class, the student will be assigned a grade of 50 on that work by the teacher. At the principal's discretion, the student may be allowed to retake/redesign the assignment up to a maximum score of 75. A second offense will result in a zero on the assignment and disciplinary action.

Behavior that could invalidate a graded assignment includes giving or receiving help on work that should be individual or completed without assistance from others or the internet. If a student is charged with cheating, the teacher will notify parents of the incident and a referral will be filed with the appropriate assistant principal. In any instance where a student is found to have engaged in academic dishonesty or cheating, the student and parents/legal guardians may appeal to the school administration.

***If the student plagiarizes or cheats on a cumulative assessment such as final course exams, project, and End of Course exam, a score of '0' will be recorded and is ineligible for make up.

General High School Grading Guidelines for Students and Families

Rock Hill Schools grading guidelines are designed to ensure all students in the district are evaluated using a consistent, fair, and equitable grading system across classrooms and schools. Grading procedures in Rock Hill Schools reflect the following beliefs:

Major assignments and assessments make up 60% of a student's final quarter grade. Minor assignments and assessments make up 40% of a student's final quarter grade. In Rock Hill Schools, homework is intended to provide students independent practice on skills or previously taught content, and – at the high school level – will be counted as one cumulative minor grade per quarter.

The course teacher will provide students with details regarding the number and type of assignments and assessments, as well as how students and families may access information about grades in the course.

Students and families should contact the course teacher with any questions or concerns about grades.
