Directions: At each Admission and Release Committee (ARC) meeting that an Individual Educational Program (IEP) is drafted or revised, members should consider which accommodations, if any, are appropriate. Check the boxes below to document the ARC's decisions. Use supporting evidence for all decisions.

Accommodations must meet the following conditions:
<input type="checkbox"/> Meets all conditions  <input type="checkbox"/> Does not meet conditions	<input type="checkbox"/> The accommodation in the instructional process is both age-appropriate and related to both the student's verified disability and specially designed instruction described in the student's IEP. The ARC has documented the disability's impact on the specified area of need (e.g., reading, writing). (See impact statement in the Present Level of Performance on the IEP);
	<input type="checkbox"/> The accommodation is based on the individual needs of the student and not on a disability category;
	<input type="checkbox"/> The use of technology was considered as an accommodation before adult accommodation (e.g., reader, scribe), if feasible. (A shortage of workstations, software, physical space, or training was not used as a reason to not provide assistive technology as an accommodation) Explain ARC decision if adult accommodation (e.g., reader, scribe) is determined instead of use of technology:
	<input type="checkbox"/> Evaluation information and/or data support the need for intervention and accommodations in the specified area of need (See Section I of Conference Summary for documentation of basis for decisions);
	<input type="checkbox"/> The accommodation is part of the student's ongoing instructional program and is not introduced for the first time during state-required assessments. Caution is used prior to making IEP changes near or within the state-required assessment window;
	<input type="checkbox"/> The accommodation is for the purpose of the student accessing the general education curriculum and demonstrating what he/she knows and is able to do;
	<input type="checkbox"/> Changes in the administration of the assessment or recording of student responses shall be consistent with the instructional strategies, assistive technology devices, and services identified on the student's IEP;
	<input type="checkbox"/> The accommodation does not inappropriately impact the content being measured; and
	<input type="checkbox"/> The accommodation is considered a temporary strategy and shall be faded as the student gains skills and knowledge. Explain ARC's plan for fading the accommodation:
	<input type="checkbox"/> The accommodation is not a substitute for instruction.
