Advanced Placement US History II-Grade 11 Curriculum Overview

Description (including primary objectives and outcomes):

Advanced Placement United States History II is designed for highly motivated Junior students with exceptional ability and follows completion of Advanced Placement United States History I in the Sophomore year. The course is taught at a collegiate level, emphasizing the social, political, economic, and cultural development of America from the late nineteenth century era of Industrialization to the present. The course strongly emphasizes preparation for the Advanced Placement examination, a culminating activity of the two-year AP sequence..

Learning Experiences:

- 1) Primary Source Analysis: Strong emphasis is placed on reading and analyzing a variety of primary source documents and using this type of analysis to write “Document Based Question” essays. “DBQs” are assigned on topics such as Industrialization, World War II, the Civil Rights Movement, and other major themes.
- 2) Lecture/Discussion: The primary learning activity for the duration of the course is slideshow-based lecture with associated discussion.
- 3) Debate: Students learn to defend opinions of historical themes through in-class debates on topics such as Imperialism, the Atomic Bomb, the Vietnam War, and other major themes.
- 4) Assessments: Students complete matching quizzes for each chapter, and multiple-choice and essay tests for every two chapters..
