

Hey! How Do I Get Those American Printing House (APH) Catalogs, Anyway?

Funny you should ask...

APH Adult Life Products Catalog

This new easy-to-use catalog is the first ever in APH's history to focus on a specific segment of our products. These products are designed for adults who are visually impaired or have other special needs. Items offered range from high-tech to low-tech for everyday life.

APH Products Catalog

The APH Products Catalog lists a wide variety of special aids, tools, and supplies that are useful to blind people at home, at work, or at school. Examples include:

- Braille slates
- 4-track tape recorders
- Talking computer software
- Low Vision aids
- Early childhood products

APH Catalog of Accessible Books

The APH Catalog of Accessible Books largely contains textbooks up to the 12th grade, although it also contains academic tests, materials for parents and professionals, and recreational/supplementary reading titles. The catalog includes books in a variety of media, including:

- Regular Print Books
- Recorded Books (15/16ips, 4-track)
- Braille/Print/Recorded books
- Enlarged Type Books

APH Parts Catalog

This first-ever APH Parts Catalog lists the most commonly requested replacement items for APH Products. All products are pictured to help you identify the parts you need.

APH Department of Educational and Advisory Services
1839 Frankfort Avenue
PO Box 6085
Louisville, Kentucky 40206-0085
(800) 223-1839 • FAX (502) 899-2274 • info@aph.org • www.aph.org