WHAT WE LEARNED

Here's a recap of what we did in April! Kindergarten used their imaginations to write a 5 senses poem about spring and spent some time thinking about ways to help the Earth. First grade did some fiction and nonfiction comparing while learning about butterflies. They also wrote acrostic poems about spring. Second grade shared their super secret animal research projects and discussed theme. Third and fourth grade finished up reading Cook Prize contenders and cast their votes for the winners. Fourth grade also wrote some book spine poetry.

NEW BOOKS ADDED THIS MONTH

"When Piper is offered a solo at her school's Spring Sing, she must overcome her stage fright to put on an unforgettable performance." –from Follett

"Most kids have dogs and cats and fish and guinea pigs. Penelope Rex has Mittens. Penelope wasn't sure she even wanted a pet when Mittens came into her life. But now that he's here, she is determined to make the best of it. Pets, however-especially ones that are six hundred pounds with six-inch-long teeth-can cause very big, very messy problems." –from the publisher

"In a gentle story from Caldecott Honoree Lauren Castillo, a shy young girl finds exploring her new city and making friends overwhelming--until a rescue dog helps her uncover the bravery that was always in her." –from the publisher

"It's his first day at a new school, and Stanley wishes he could disappear. He can hardly believe it when, after a big spill at the science fair, POOF! Stanley is invisible! It's awesome! He can do anything he wants, and no one will know! But Stanley isn't the only one who turned invisible. The inventor of the potion is not happy about the accident and takes his anger out on kids all over town. Stanley wants to use his power for good . . . which means going up against the one person who can make him visible again"--Provided by publisher.

"Embarking on an . . . cross-country road trip to scatter her mom's ashes at her chosen resting place, Coyote and her dad have an unforgettable adventure, picking up some old friends and discovering some new ones along the way"--Provided by publisher.

"When she is sidelined by an ear infection, Julia Nam, the youngest member of the Vipers Swim Team, is desperate to get back in pool. When she goes behind her parents' backs to do so, she gets into hot water." --from Follett
