Back in the day...

For this prompt, you need to write from the perspective of an older person. How old, you ask? Well, that's up to you. What is important is that you start your story with "Back in the day..." You could say, "Back in the day, you could find me at Blockbuster video every Friday night." Or you could say, "Back in the day, you'd find me bass fishing with not a care in the world." Or maybe you could say, "Back in the day, music was so much better." You can make your story nostalgic, funny, or about someone in your family. That is up to you. Your only requirement is to start your story with, "Back in the day..."
