

Black History Art Contest

Theme: History is Now

Calling all student artists! Here's your chance to showcase your talent and celebrate Black history through your creative lens. The theme, "History is Now," invites you to explore how the rich legacy of Black history continues to shape our present and inspire the future.

Create art that tells a story, sparks a conversation, or reimagines history in a modern context. Winners will receive special prizes and have their work displayed in a local showcase!

Submissions may be two-dimensional, three-dimensional, poetry, or videos that you create. Drafts must be shown to Mrs. Cathey by February 18, submissions completed and submitted by the end of the day February 26. All submissions must be your original work.

Contest Winners

Winners will be chosen by participating teachers and members of the Beaufort County NAACP. Participating students will be recognized on March 4 during fourth period.

1st Prize = $100.00

2nd Prizes = $75.00

3rd Prize = $25.00
