ISTEP+ PL221

DEFINITIONS:

Exemplary: At least 90 percent of students pass ISTEP-Plus exams, or the school has fewer students passing -- as few as 40 percent -- but is showing major gains in scores, 6 percent or more over three years.

Commendable: At least 80 percent of students pass ISTEP-Plus, or the school has fewer students passing -- even fewer than 40 percent -- but is showing major gains in scores, 6 percent or more over three years.

Academic Progress: At least 70 percent of students pass ISTEP-Plus, or the school has fewer students passing -- even fewer than 40 percent -- but is showing gains in scores, 5 percent or more over three years.

Academic Watch, priority: At least 70 percent of students pass ISTEP-Plus, or the school has fewer students passing -- even fewer than 40 percent -- but is showing some gains in scores, 3 percent or more over three years.

Academic Probation: At least 50 percent of students pass ISTEP-Plus, or the school has fewer students passing -- even fewer than 40 percent -- but is showing little gains in scores, 3 percent or less over three years.

APY DEFINITIONS

▸ Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) designations for Indiana school corporations and schools are determined by student performance and participation rates on the Indiana Statewide Testing for Educational Progress-Plus (ISTEP+) assessments in English/language arts and mathematics; student attendance rates (for elementary and middle schools); and graduation rates (for high schools).

▸ Since 2002, the federal No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 (NCLB), has required public schools to make AYP for both the overall student population and any demographic group within the school that includes 30 or more students (often called "subgroups"). These student subgroups include economic background, race/ethnicity, limited English proficiency and special education.

▸ Schools must make AYP in every student subgroup to meet AYP. The goal of NCLB is for all students to achieve proficiency in English/language arts and math by 2014.
