Handwriting is an essential skill for both children and adults (Feier & Majumdar, 2007). Even in the age of technology, it remains the primary tool of communication and knowledge assessment for students in the classroom. The demands for it are great, whether in the classroom or beyond. A 1992 study (McNabb & Irmak) found that 85 percent of all fine motor time in second-, fourth- and sixth- grade classrooms was spent on paper and pencil activities. A more recent study (Mann, Cermak, Lehn & Henderson, 2003) noted that kindergarten children are now spending 42 percent of their fine motor time on paper and pencil activities.

The addition of handwritten components to many state stan assessments and of a handwritten essay to the College Board SAT in 2005 further emphasize the importance of handwriting. Furthermore, good handwriting is important long after graduation in Script and Scribble (2009). Flory writes in reference to handwritten job applications, "Like it or not, even in our machine-driven world, people still judge you by your handwriting".

Research literature extensively documents the consequences of poor handwriting on early literacy and academic perform. Children who experience difficulty mastering this skill may

Hi Reddit,
I came across this subreddit today and since I love to handwrite, I thought I'd share my own penmanship! This is my normal, everyday handwriting I've written in this style for several years now. I like that it's quick to write, neat, and easy to read.

Sometimes I like to write in cursive. It's definitely not as neat and more difficult to write. But still, it's fun and pretty! Now my hand is starting to hurt, so I'll stop here. 😊

Sincerely,
ellechon

Ohhh yeah!

Dear Reddit,
 Just discovered this sub. Thought you'd get a kick out of the fact that I don't really have handwriting. I just kind of pick one I see that I like FOR WHATEVER REASON. ALMOST ALWAYS SOMETHING VERY NEAT and well-organized, & there are definitely some tropes — can I say "tropes" when I'm talking about handwriting? — but mostly, I just write however I want to that day. Sometimes I steal the HANDWRITING OF THE PERSON SITTING NEXT TO ME JUST TO BREAK THEM OUT A LITTLE. WHEN I WAS IN SCHOOL, IT drove the teachers nuts, especially because I could make my handwriting look like anyone's — even theirs. Very reasonably, they found that threatening, and I totally took advantage, writing horrible things on the board in their handwriting JUST TO FUCK WITH THEM — OR WHOMEVER. Bit me in the ass once, though. The one time I had to hand-write assignments in college, I got called before the honor council for cheating, and I had to prove that all of the samples were my own work (I generally don't write like this; I pick one style for a page or two). Anyway, just wanted to say thanks for all the inspiration.

ALL YOUR HANDWRITING ARE BELONG TO ME.

 Addacious

WAYWARD carry on my Son THERE'LL BE When you are peace done
 lay your HEAD to REST CRY NO MORE
 once I ROSE NOISE & CONFUSION
 just to get a GLIMPSE of HELL
 I WAS Soaring higher but I flew too high BLIND
 though my eyes could see I was still a man
 my Mind madman
 I hear the voices when I'm DREAMING THEY SAY: CARRY ON my WAYWARD SON I'll be
 WHEN YOU ARE DONE WEARILY PEACE
 don't you CRY NO MORE
