Citizen Module: Community Service

Within the pages of this handbook, a menu of projects and placement sites offers a wide variety of opportunities to assist you in the accumulation of the hours of community service which are required to graduate. In no way are you limited to this list. If there is a special project or experience a student would like to undertake, and it is determined to fall under the guidelines of community service, the student should pursue this interest and gain credit. The list will change; stay current with activities occurring on all levels by checking posted bulletins. Students may accumulate as many hours as they wish from one or all of the areas. Students are encouraged to select what best reflects their interests.

What Community Service Is and Is Not...

- The following clarifies what qualifies as community service hours for the Riverview High school Career Project:
- A student must provide a service for the common good where the student derives personal growth.
- Activities conducted within any given organization which are deemed purely social do not qualify.
- In all cases the organization for whom the student provides the service must be non-profit unless that organization is sponsoring a philanthropic project.
- Public performances are not accepted community service projects.

If a student is in doubt, he/she should ask permission before completing the hours. The validity of any questionable activity will be determined by the graduation coordinator and/or the high school administration. Please note that sports related activities are not considered community service.

Career Planning/Career Shadow Experience

Career shadowing is an opportunity to give individuals first-hand knowledge and experience in exploring the world of work. Participants have an opportunity to learn about education, skill requirements, and characteristics of the job.

Preparation

- Career shadowing is part of an educational process. Participants are not paid for this experience. Staff development days, when students are not in school, provide excellent opportunities for this activity.
- Career shadowing preparation is helpful. Be sure to ask informed and relevant questions. Be familiar with the following guidelines.

Attire

- Students are reminded to dress appropriately for the workplace they will be visiting. For most experiences, appropriate dress means trousers, casual slacks and a shirt with or without a tie for men. Women are to wear conservative skirts, slacks, blouses or sweaters. No jeans, running shoes, hats, or shorts. No cell phones!

On-the-Job

- A student should start the career shadowing experience by introducing him/herself to the appropriate career shadow volunteer. Students are expected to follow the rules and policies of the worksite, as well as comply with worksite safety rules.
- Students should come prepared with plenty of questions and a pencil. The person a student is observing is a volunteer and enjoys talking about his/her job. Students are reminded to show enthusiasm.
- Students should complete the Career Shadowing Experience Form and return it to his/her mentor after the experience.

Follow-up

- Turn in the Career Shadowing Experience Form to mentor.
- A thank you note to the shadowing volunteer is always appreciated.
