4. Pencil/Pen

Classroom Procedures:

1. First Five: When the bell rings, be prepared for the Bell Ringer. You only have 5 minutes to write down and answer the question/statement on the board. These bell ringers will be collected at the end of the week. In order to earn full credit, you must have every question for that week copied and answered correctly along with each daily learning target.
2. Class Assignments/Projects: All work assignments must be turned in on time, assignments turned in late will result in point deductions. Once a unit test has been given, you will not be permitted to make up missing assignments from that unit.
3. Turning in Assignments: In order to maintain daily assignments and homework, there is a turn in tray. You will turn in all assignment/work into your class' designated tray. The grading scale will be followed according to school policy. Work turned in at other locations will result in no grade on that work.
4. Make-Up Work: For each class there is "While you were out" bin designated for makeup work. It is neatly organized according to class periods. The assignments will be displayed for one week. If you miss a day of school, please check the bin to gather missed assignments. It is your responsibility to get your work and ask me questions about what you have missed in a timely manner.
5. Make up Exams: Always feel free to see me before or after school if you need any help or need to make-up an exam from an excused absence.
6. Hall Passes: Each student will receive four passes that may be used throughout the trimester. These passes will allow students to visit a locker or to go the restroom during class if needed. Students will only be allowed to leave class four times for necessary visits and any pass that is not used by the end of the trimester can be turned into me for five bonus points per pass. All students understand that no one may leave my classroom during the first ten class minutes or last ten class minutes. (If you have any reasons that would affect this, please notify me.)
7. Final Five: There will often be an Exit Activity for which you must complete and turn in before leaving class. When I dismiss class, you need to make sure that all books/materials are picked up and put away. No one will leave the classroom until the room is straight.
8. Personal Devices: Devices are to only be used when given permission for education purposes.
9. Get Connected: There are multiple ways to stay connected in our class! You're welcome to connect to all of them, a few, or none of them!
