

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

"The white (young) pair"
Black & white man & dog
USA 2000

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

Today's Artist: Khalil Chrishtee

Khalil Chrishtee is an artist who moved from Pakistan to California to make art. He is best known for his works that use plastic garbage bags to create humans and animals that evoke feeling. His sculptures are usually sad and lonely feeling. The emotion the sculptures are about often make the material of trash bags seem very fitting

