

Counter argument Example

A counter argument gives you the chance to respond to your readers' objections before they have finished reading. It also shows that you are a reasonable person who has considered both sides of the stimulus.

Steps to follow:

1st = Opposing Viewpoint (Think of what someone would say if they disagreed with your claim.)

2nd = Evidence/Explanation of the opposing opinion (This would be the opposition's evidence to support their belief.)

3rd = Rebuttal (This is what you would say in response to the opposition's opinion. Attack/squash)

4th = Rebuttal evidence/explanation (This is evidence to support your rebuttal.)

5th = Closing (This is your closing remark.)

~This is a counterargument for an essay on why trophies should be awarded to everyone who participates in sports.
