

MARCH 2022

CORNWALL NEWSLETTER

"WHERE KIDS COME FIRST!"

Way to go Cornwall for raising almost $20,000.00 for the Kids Heart Challenge. Thank you everyone for your generous donations.

PRINCIPAL'S CORNER

As we enter the month of March and move towards the month of April, PSSA testing is approaching. This time can become daunting and cumbersome to think about and prepare for PSSA testing. PSSA testing has value by giving us a snap shot view of your child's and Cornwall's proficiency with the subjects of math, science, reading and writing. This snap shot view helps provide information to help us as educators assess our curriculum, teaching methodology and our instructional tools. However, PSSA's are exactly that – a snap shot view. PSSA testing does not nor will it ever, encompass the complexity of every student, their desires, needs and interests. It does not define your child. Each student is different which brings diversity to every classroom and makes school, especially Cornwall, an amazing place to learn, grow and mature. In turn, our goal is to instill a love of learning in every student so they can set and achieve their own personal goals in life, fulfilling the mission of Cornwall-Lebanon School District – “empowering students to reach their fullest potential.” By the time students leave our doors, we are confident we will provide quality education, love of learning and joy of life for all students here at Cornwall Elementary. Education takes time and is accomplished over the span of our lifetime. When we are a catalyst for a lifetime of learning we truly have put “kids first.”

Thank you for your continued support to Cornwall Elementary.

Sincerely,

Nathanial A. Artz, Principal

SCHOOL NURSE NOTES

Information regarding your elementary child's BMI for the 2020-2021 is now available on the Skyward Parent Portal. Body mass index, or BMI, is a measure of body fat based on height and weight and is used as a screening tool to identify possible weight problems for children. Follow the directions below to access your child's results. If you have questions regarding your child's BMI results, please contact the nurse at 389-1883.

To access your child's BMI information, please follow these steps:

1. Log onto Skyward and navigate to Family Access.
2. On the left menu list click on Health Information.
3. Click on display options.
4. Next, on the tabs, click on Show Physical Exams.
5. Look at the top entry date and then to BMI and BMI Percentile. Make a note of these numbers.
6. Next, on the district web site: Services>Health Services>Growth Screenings
7. When that page opens, compare your child's BMI numbers to the BMI chart.

Ideas for Healthy Eating

Making time to sit down as a family to eat a home-cooked meal not only sets a great example for kids. It provides comfort for children to know that the whole family will sit down at dinner together at approximately the same time every day can be very comforting for kids and enhance appetite.

This also provides opportunity to talk and listen to you children without the distraction of electronic devises.

The social interaction of talking to parents/guardian about how they feel can play a vital role in relieving stress and boosting your child's mood and self-esteem. In addition, it gives you chance to identify problems in your child's life and deal with them early.

By eating, together you are leading by example. Demonstrating eating healthy food while keeping your portions in check and limiting junk food, help children identify with healthy dietary intake. Avoid talking about your own weight and calorie counting, so children do not derive a negative association with food.

The Health Room is still in need of clothing and will take any outgrown play clothes that you would like to donate. We are especially in need of sweat pants for boys/girls 4T-6X

Thank you for all the wonderful volunteers that have helping in various ways in the health and wellbeing of Cornwall Elementary.

Sincerely,
Sue Robins RN

MR. SOBOL'S TECH NEWS

PHISHING ATTACKS EXPOSED

Hackers are daily working hard to take whatever they can from you electronically. They are basically fishing for information about you that they can use to profit from you! In email this is called Phishing.

Scammers use email to trick you into falling for a scam by utilizing “official looking logos” in their email such as the FedEx or T Mobile to lull you into a feeling of comfort. I've seen even more official looking logos than these in Phishing email schemes.

Once you click a link in the email, one of two things will happen. FIRST: You will be taken to a website that tries to have you enter varying amounts of information about you. SECOND: You will be taken to a website that will download dangerous software to your computer that could “lock” all your files or do malicious damage to your computer.

HOW CAN I SAFELY IDENTIFY A PHISHING ATTACK?

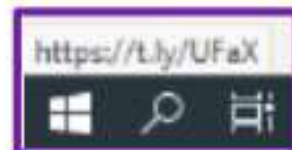

First:

Look at the return address on the email which I've circled in red in the images to the right. Whenever you see a random series of letters or numbers, you can bet this is a scam.

Second:

Position your mouse pointer on a link in the body of the email, but DO NOT click. The web address attached to the link “should appear” on the bottom left corner of your browser window. I've circled this with a purple color in the images below. Note that even though the “secure looking” “https:” precedes the web address, the rest of the address is made of random letters.

Third:

If you observe these things in an email, the BEST thing for your safety is to take one of the following actions in your email software:

- Block the email sender. This sender will no longer be able to use this particular address to contact you. This does not mean that they may not make a new email address to contact/scam you in the future.
- Report them as Phishing. (In Outlook/Hotmail email clicking the Phishing button DOES NOT block the sender.)
- At the minimum, mark the email as Junk.
