The Fun We Have When We Are Bored

Quarantine has given people the opportunity to make some recreations of great art. When we are bored, great things can happen.

The Rijksmuseum in Amsterdam and an instagram account @Betweenartandquarantine challenged the world to recreate great art from the masters. People could search the online archives of museum collections of the Getty, The Metropolitan and Art Institute of Chicago for great artworks to recreate. And over the past several months of quarantine, the art sensation has gone viral.

lysaraujo_criarte 'Clown in Red Tights.'

De Walt Kuhn, 1938.

Releitura nº17

Esse pintor norte americano tem uma produção enorme de personagens circenses..❤️

Bom, eu tentei muito fazer esse olhar de peixe morto....😞 mas não consegui.. esse branco do olho.. acho que é uma questão de 'tipo de olho'.👁️👁️

Então , estou mais para a irmã dele né..😞🇺🇸 sarikalakari Another #Cubist, #Turkishpainter Hale Asaf's self portrait for the #gettymuseumchallenge. This was basically making that fancy coat lapel with paper, modifying a corduroy golf cap with a couple of masks to look like the fancy hat and the MAKE-UP.....Check out my 'Spock-brow' 😊!. The BG is the same saree that was used as the flapper dress in the Lemnicka recreation ...

jenniferkirkeby Oh, hey. It's Frida Friday!

Self Portrait, 1948 by Frida Kahlo.

Frida Kahlo (1907-1954) was a Mexican painter known for her many portraits, self-portraits, and works inspired by the nature and artifacts of Mexico. She employed a naïve folk art style to explore questions of identity, gender, class, and race in Mexican society. In 1948, Frida's health was deteriorating and this self-portrait is the only painting she painted that year.

What You Need To Do

1. Search #betweenartandquarantine and #gettyartchallenge for ideas or search the Getty Museum online catalog for art to recreate.
2. Get a model or someone to photograph you, since you can also model for this too.
3. Find props, clothes, fabric, sheets, flowers or whatever you need to make it look as similar as possible.
4. Do any necessary makeup or changes to hair.
5. Look at where the light is coming from and try to match the direction of light.
6. Consider your background and do something similar
7. Shoot a bunch of shots till you get it right.
8. Edit to make your colors match the original. Consider using a painting app to add a similar effect to the original.
9. Create a side by side collage for easy comparison.
10. In the comments write the artist, name of art, year and where you found it. And why you chose this particular artwork.
