

E – Learning Day 2

7th Grade and 8th Grade – I want to see your creative side. Using yesterday's assignment write me a short story about the events that have happened during your life. I am not an English teacher, so grammar won't be a major point of the assignment, but I still expect you to do your best. You will need to use at least 8 of your events from yesterday's assignment. Be creative, have fun, but keep it appropriate.

9th Grade – 12th Grade – First off, please make sure you are done with yesterday's assignment. 9th grade, your test will be Monday. 10th grade, I will give you your Section 4 and 5 worksheet on Monday. 11th grade, your essay will be due on Thursday (the last day before Christmas Break). 12th grade, please have the Chapter 5 Extras (yesterday's assignment) done for Monday.

Now, for your assignment: I want you guys to make a timeline for me. I know we did this assignment last year, so please try to find new events from your life. You can pick any day from the day you were born and today. I will even give you the first and last days. Your first day can be your birthday, and the last one can be our E-Learning Day. Please use this site <https://www.history.com/this-day-in-history> to find your date for the assignment. Let me know if you have any questions.
