

Mr. Parsons
English 11
Syllabus JParsons@Winthrop.k12.ma.us

Course Overview

Junior English is a full-year course designed to challenge each individual student to explore his or her own potential and to prepare each student for post-graduate success. Students will read and master many genres of American Literature including the short story, fiction, nonfiction, poetry, and drama. In addition to core texts, we will also explore and analyze specific historical periods and its characteristics. By studying a wide range of literature and time periods, students will build an understanding of the many dimensions of the human experience and growth of the English Language. In addition, through frequent and varied writing assignments students will master strategies that will prepare them for their future endeavors.

Course Objectives

Throughout this course, students will:

- Analyze and discuss many works of literature.
- Incorporate appropriate grammar and mechanics in all work.
- Improve skills in oral and written communication.
- Master MLA format throughout writing assignments.
- Present speeches, poems and dramatic scenes.

Classroom Expectations and Consequences

In this classroom, you are expected:

- To have an open mind and be creative!
