Planning Questions

Use this publication to help you select which institutions you wish to visit during your post-high school planning. You may also want to ask the institutional representative(s) some of the following questions:

1. Does this school have a program that will prepare me for the career field I really want?

2. What are the institution's admission requirements?

3. What are the application deadlines for admission and financial aid?

4. What are the full costs of attending this school, including:
   Tuition & Fees?
   Room and Board?
   Books?

5. Can credits earned at this school be transferred to other schools?

6. What is the percentage of graduates in this course of study who find work? What is the average starting salary?

7. How large will the typical class be at this school?

8. What options are available at this school in case my goals change?

9. What about...
   health services?
   the library?
   employment counseling?
   personal counseling?
   academic advising?

10. Are there sports, clubs and other extra-curricular activities to help "round out" the educational experience?

Applicants must be enrolled as MLS majors in one of the affiliated programs listed in our brochure, or have a completed bachelor degree with the necessary prerequisites met by the program start date. Applicants will be required to submit the completed application, official college transcripts, three references and a resume. Applications are accepted from August 1 to the October 1 deadline for the program starting in June of the next year and the following January. Interviews are conducted during October/November and placement is usually completed by late December.
The minimum adjusted GPA for consideration is 2.8. Any exception to this minimum will be at the Committee's discretion.

Application Evaluation

The evaluation of an application is based upon the grade point average, interview(s), references and a statement of the applicant's expectations and goals. These are scored in accordance with the pattern adopted by the Committee on Medical Laboratory Education and carry these weight-values:

GPA, science courses	20%
GPA, cumulative	20%
Academic progress	10%
Interview(s)	30%
References	15%
Applicant's statement	5%

Additional considerations include criminal background check, ties to Sanford Health, and US residency status.

Progress Requirement

During the clinical year, students must maintain a minimal grade of C. For graduation, a student must have that grade, or better, in each of the subjects. The grading system is based upon the student's maintaining minimum competency for career entry. A=Excellent; B=Average; C=Minimum Acceptable

Financial Aid

In general, the process for applying for financial assistance involves these steps.

1. APPLY FOR ADMISSION AS WELL AS FINANCIAL AID - Institutions require both an application for admission and for financial aid. Application deadlines are very important and vary with each institution. Find these out and meet the deadline.

2. SUBMIT A NEED ANALYSIS FORM - In addition to the financial aid application mentioned above, most institutions require completion of a need analysis form. A need analysis form helps institutions distribute limited funds by reporting how much you and your family can afford to pay for education. To receive aid you must be accepted in a program and complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). There are a number of processors for the FAFSA. Check with the institution that you are interested in to determine the proper forms to complete and the deadline dates.

3. APPLY FOR SCHOLARSHIPS AND GRANTS - Besides aid offered directly by an institution and aid for which your need analysis form is an automatic application

Basically there are four types of financial assistance:

SCHOLARSHIPS Nonrepayable awards based on merit or merit plus need.

GRANTS Nonrepayable based on need.

LOANS Funds loaned through a lending institution with interest rates that are usually reasonable (loans may be guaranteed by the federal government in which case the government pays the interest on the loan while the student is in school).

WORK STUDY Jobs that allow the student to earn money

PROGRAMS toward an education while still enrolled in school. (Students can sometimes get jobs related to their program of study).

Visiting a Post-Secondary School

The visit needs to be carefully planned. Following is a list of suggestions to help prepare for the visit.

1. Make an appointment! Contact the Admissions Office to set up a date, time and the departments that you may be interested in visiting.

2. Be prompt.

3. Plan on spending at least half a day on the campus. In addition to the tour of the campus try to:

   A. Sit in on a class - check out shops, labs and classrooms.

   B. Have a meal on campus.

   C. Browse in the library.

   D. Talk with other students on campus.

   E. Spend some time in the student center or union.

   F. Visit with Financial Aid officer.

   G. Visit with professors and/or coaches.

4. Some questions to ask:

   A. What is the student-to-teacher ratio? How large will the typical class be?

   B. What is the percentage of graduates in this course of study who find work? What is their average starting salary?

   C. How do students receive extra help with difficult assignments?

   D. What are the full costs of attending school, including tuition and fees, room and board and books?

   E. What about health services, the library, employment counseling, personal counseling and academic advising?

   F. What sports, clubs and other extra-curricular activities are there to help "round out" the education experience?

   G. What options are available in case goals change?

5. Keep notes on your visit(s). Do not rely on your memory. Take into account your feelings while you were on campus (comfortable, lost, afraid, overwhelmed).
