Free lunch for all will only apply if the state extends the current waiver past June 2023. If the waiver is not extended, students will be charged based on their Free/Reduced status at the rates listed. Meal status is determined through direct certification or a meal application. Price increases are based on actual food cost and USDA projected food cost increase for 2023. Premium meals are currently unavailable as they are not financially viable under free lunch. Summer meal price is for students consuming meals outside the USDA "Area Eligible" geographical region (currently only Brookline Village is eligible for free summer meals) or students in summer school or camps who do not qualify for free/reduced lunch. Reduced fee eliminated by SC in FY23. Cost of eliminating fee estimated to be offset by increased meal counts. Suggestion in response to concerns from PTOs to make free/reduced lunch-eligible students also be eligible for a second free/reduced lunch. This is not federally-reimbursable but these families are accruing lunch debt which they should not be.	$3,133, 454 (based on FY23 actual student meal counts)
