

Benjamin

Mollie

Bluebell, Jessie and Pincher

Moses

Boxer

Mr. Jones

The cat

Muriel

Clover

Napoleon

Young female horse who likes ribbons, sugar cubes and other luxuries.

The cynical, ill-tempered donkey, who is the oldest animal on the farm. He and Boxer spend their Sundays together.

The raven who talks about a place called "Sugarcandy Mountain" where he says animals go after they die. It is a place where life is good.

The names of the three adult dogs.

The farmer who owns Manor Farm and treats the animals poorly. He is often drunk.

Male horse; strongest animal on the farm; not very smart, but well respected for his strength and dedication.

The goat

The character who disappears whenever there is work.

A large, "fierce-looking" pig who has a "reputation for getting his own way." One of the leaders of Animal Farm, he is the last animal seen near the milk before it disappears.

Mature, motherly horse who is friendly with Boxer.

Old Major

Snowball

Squealer

The old pig who teaches the animals about Animalism and talks of the rebellion to come.

One of the pigs who leads Animal Farm. He paints the Seven Commandments of Animalism on a wall.

The pig who is very good at a persuading other animals to agree with him. Able to "turn black into white."