

Handcoloring examples

...

Historical and in Photoshop

Handcolored Photos

Since photographs were historically in black in white, people would take actual paint to add color after a photo was printed.

You can often tell that a photo has been handcolored because the shadows remain black and the colors are simple thin washes of solid colors.

Historical Example

Historical Example

Historical Example

MISS OISHI IN A GARDEN, GION STREET, KYOTO.

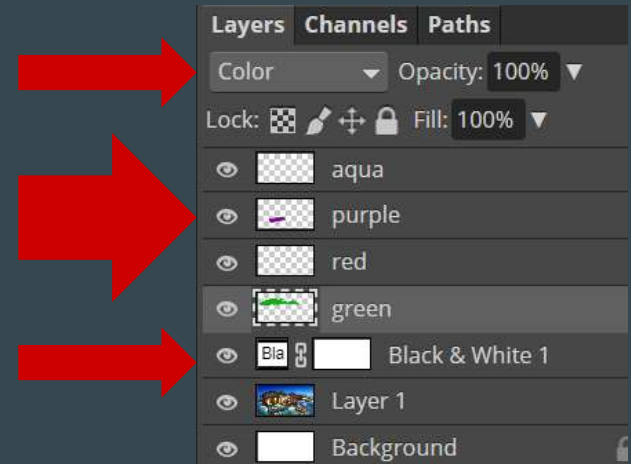

For this assignment, you will do the following:

Instructions:

- 1) get color photo off of internet
- 2) make image black&white using an adjustment layer
- 3) make 5 new layers
- 4) paint different colors on each layer NEATLY
- 5) change layer blending modes on those layers
- 6) use layer masks to hide any mistakes

Save to your cloud (or to the downloads folder)

- 7) Save to your cloud (or to the downloads folder) and turn in to Google Classroom

Examples of Photoshop Handcolor Assignments

Examples of Photoshop Handcolor Assignments

