

Haverford Middle School Newsletter

Week of June 29th

Welcome to the first summer edition of the Haverford Middle School Newsletter! We will keep you connected to what is happening in our district and school through the summer with versions of the Haverford Middle School Newsletter sent home every other week.

Planning for 2020-2021

Preparing for the 2020-2021 school year at Haverford Middle School will be challenging and exciting this summer. We have a wide range of options to consider at this point, and over the next two weeks will begin to focus on what would be best for our staff, students, families, and community. We will continue to keep you apprised of our progress and direction. We have to be mindful of this evolving situation and appreciate your support and flexibility.

The week consisted of a strategic plan focused on using the online learning platform Canvas as a vehicle to deliver instruction. Our content area teachers explored using Canvas, collaborated to plan lessons, and discussed their role as we prepare to move into the 2020-2021 school year.

We are excited that our school board supported the purchase of a personal Chromebook computer for each middle school student and the online tool Canvas as our common learning platform to be used by students at home and in school. Both the Chromebook and Canvas will help us deliver the type and level of instruction that we all expect for our children.

Please help us throughout the summer by staying informed on what you can do to protect our community. Social distancing, wearing a mask, hand hygiene, respiratory etiquette, and proper disinfection of surfaces are all things that can be done to protect our community. If we protect ourselves and the community now, then the likelihood that
