Key and rationale

1. B because it has “wiggle room.” The other choices are exclusive
2. C because it’s the longest answer
3. D. because it is a word made up of a form of the word in the question.
4. A because the article a only goes with that one; the rest would require “an.”
5. B because it asks for reasons (plural) and that’s the only answer with plural choices.
6. D because the question uses never and the is, are thing is to distract. They really wanted to just put is, but couldn’t be so simple.
7. B because it is the same as question 4 but reversed.
8. A because if you are doing “less than” pick the highest number and that eliminates the others perforce.
9. D because it allows for flexibility since the word “typically” is used in the question.
10. 10. C because C is the most used letter in multiple choice tests. It’s the best guess.

More multiple choice games:

Guess at random and see what your percentage looks like.

Use B for every one and see what your percentage looks like.

Eliminate one and then guess and see what happens.
