Think, pair, share

1. How do you think Israa felt living in Syria during the war? How does she feel now she lives in Zaatari Refugee Camp?

2. What do you think Israa misses the most now that she has had to leave Syria? Why?

3. What would you miss the most if you had to leave the place where you live because of war? Why?
