Mural Work

To earn money while in High School I created murals in Rockford

Mural

A large mural which occupied an entire basement. With the money I bought my first Mac computer.

Digital Work

Once I had my first computer, I started experimenting with Digital work.

Digital Work Adobe Illustrator

Digital Work

As I became more proficient with graphic programs, I found outlets for turning my skills into paid work.

Digital Art

I also explored using digital programs to make art. The following images uses scribbles and fragments of words to create the image.

Art

An artist must create something on anything anywhere.
