What is love?

Brainstorming a common subject in uncommon ways

Answer #1-4 either individually or with your table partner(s). Each person must fill out their own sheet, though.

* Please resist the urge to look up answers or images online. Later on, you will be allowed to use your devices and print materials (as well as class discussion) to add to your notes.*

Use your brain-power for brainstorming!!! Also please keep this school-appropriate!!!

1) Define “love” in your own words. You may define it as either a noun or a verb (or both):

What is love, to you? _____

2) What images come to mind when you hear or see the word “love”? You may write them in words or sketch them or a combo (whichever is quicker and easier). Do not worry about accuracy or perfection right now, as long as you know what it means.

3) What are some common sayings, slogans, song lyrics, cliché's, and/or quotes that come to mind when you think of “Love”? Again, don't worry about getting the wording perfect for now. You can verify it and change it later.

4) Any additional notes, thoughts, or quick thumbnail sketches on “love” and how it might be portrayed in a work of art?

Wait to answer the following until after a class discussion. This will be done as a group.

5) 5 Love Languages (Developed by Gary Chapman as marriage advice, but may be applied to most close relationships, in different ways)

- WoA _____
- PT _____
- G _____
- QT _____
- AoS _____

6) Types of Love

| Type (in Greek) | What it means, notes on it | Symbols, actions, ways it is shown, etc—be specific | Art/artist notes (as needed) |
|-----------------|----------------------------|---|------------------------------|
| Philia | | | |
| Eros | | | |
| Storge | | | |
| Agape | | | |

- 7) Using what you have brainstormed, learned, and discussed, quickly sketch out at least four thumbnails illustrating possible ideas for how you might communicate the concept of love and what it means to you.
- Again, thumbnails are not meant to be perfect or hyper-accurate, but to get what’s in your head quickly on paper, and to decide how you may fill the space. Do not spend lots of time looking for how to draw something YET (do that later).
 - You may use any 2D medium/media, as long as it is NOT something you have used more than once. In other words, if it as a medium you have used for two or more projects, try something new.
 - If you choose to use “trite” symbols, please try to incorporate them into a unique and original composition (no single heart in the middle of the page, for example).

Sketch thumbnails in spaces below:
