Madison Junior High School Extra-Curricular Activity Guide

MJHS students can participate in a variety of extra-curricular activities. Participation is determined by academic status and adherence to coach/sponsor expectations. Many activities are open to all interested and eligible participants.

Absences and Extra-Curricular Participation/Off-Campus Education

- Students who are absent from school or do not arrive by the end of Period 3, may not attend extra-curricular activities (including athletic practices or contests) that evening. If extenuating school or family circumstances result in a student's failure to be present for these classes, an exception can be made by the school administration. Reasons may include the following: medical emergencies and funerals.
- Students who leave school due to illness are not to attend extra-curricular or athletic events. Medical appointments do not apply.
- A student missing an exceptional amount of instructional school days will not be permitted to participate in extra-curricular school events (i.e. dances, field trips, etc.). Final determination of attendance at an extra-curricular school event will be reviewed by the principal.
