Enter your email address

Then Select Work or School Account

The image shows the Microsoft account selection page. At the top left is the Microsoft logo. Below it is the text "It looks like this email is used with more than one account from Microsoft. Which one do you want to use?". There are two account options listed, each with a circular icon and text: "Work or school account" (with a briefcase icon) and "Personal account" (with a person icon). The "Work or school account" option is highlighted with a dashed border. A red callout box with a white border contains the text "Click on 'Work or School Account'". A red arrow points from this callout box to the "Work or school account" option. Below the account options is a grey button labeled "Back". At the bottom, there is a link: "Tired of seeing this? Rename your personal Microsoft account.".

Enter your password
