DATE: December 1998

FORMAT: Skit

TARGET AUDIENCE: Parents

SFX: [STARTS WITH INTRO MUSIC: It's My Party]

ANNCR: [music volume drops - speaks over music] And now from radio station
Wy2Y - we bring you the Party Hardy Party-line!

SFX: [music volume rises as announcer stops speaking then fades rapidly to cue hosts]

LACEY: Hello folks, my name is Lacey

CASEY: and I'm Casey - we're the "party guys" and this is

BOTH: the Party Hardy Party-line!

LACEY: The radio talk show where we help you plan a great bash or a gala event.

CASEY: And we're going to go right to our first listener - caller are you there?

WANDA: Hello - yes - my name is Wanda.

LACEY: Hi Wanda - what's your question for the Party-line?

WANDA: I'm planning a big high school graduation party for my son and a bunch of his friends. I've ordered them a keg of beer - and of course I'm taking all their keys away to make sure that they don't drink and drive.

CASEY: Yes - I see where you're going.

WANDA: My question is - is there anything else I can do to make sure I am ready for this event?

LACEY: Well you're off to a great start - but we can certainly give you a few important tips on what you can do to complete your preparations for this special night.

CASEY: Tip #1 - check your home owner's insurance and make sure you're covered for hospitalization in case a drunken student falls down your stairs or out a window.

LACEY: Tip #2 - retain an attorney to handle your case when the injured students' parents file a civil suit against you.

CASEY: Tip #3 - Update your CPR certification so you're ready in the event a binge drinking student consumes so much alcohol - he goes into respiratory arrest.

LACEY: And speaking of arrest - set aside $500 bail money, since providing alcohol to a minor in New Hampshire is a misdemeanor.

CASEY: And lastly - get a life! Some of those kids will eventually join the ranks of the 13 million alcoholics currently in the United States and you're encouraging it.

LACEY: And the younger they start, the more likely they are to have a drinking problem later in life.

WANDA: Perhaps I should give this some more thought. Thank you very much!

SFX: [CLOSING MUSIC - low volume]

LACEY: You're welcome... and that's all the time we have for today folks, be sure to join us again tomorrow for -

BOTH: The Party Hardy Party-line.

SFX: [music increases in volume - and ends after a few seconds]
