Meet This Year's Keynoters!

Andy Vasily teaches at the Nanjing International School in China. Andy was recently recognized as the world's top social media contributor for physical education!

Nathan Horne is a physical education specialist currently based in Singapore. He is the founder of iPhys-Ed.com - the definitive guide to Inquiry & Technology in Physical Education.

Dr. Ash Casey is a researcher, lecturer and academic. He has a talent for breaking down academic research into practical, everyday PE application. As the founder of PEPRN.com, Ash has created a collaborative space where teachers can learn from each other and grow.

Jarrod "The PE Geek" Robinson is a physical education teacher from Victoria Australia, with a passion and enthusiasm for the role emerging technologies play within teaching and learning. He is first and foremost an advocate for lifelong movement and physical activity.

Joey Feith is a young and energetic physical educator from Montreal, Canada. One of the world's leading PE innovators, his development of ThePhysicalEducator.com has been hailed as creating a new standard for a globally-connected community for physical educators!
