

Poster over presidential/KS Senate candidates

Presidential candidates and Kansas Senate candidates state their stance on tax laws and the ways they will pay for their programs. These policies and stances will directly affect you as an individual and the business you work for in the future. To help you learn about political influence on business, you will draw a candidate and be asked to research his/her tax/business policies and how they will affect small and large businesses.

Once you have researched the candidate policies, you will create a poster to hang in the hallway to present your findings and help voters make an informed decision.

Your audience is other students and the voting public. Neatness is required.

First, we will create a rubric to add in grading this project.
