

OMNIKIN® COOPERATIVE GAMES

DOUBLE CIRCLE

A group forms two concentric circles, the players that make up the inside ring facing those who form the outside circle.

- 1) Have the players pass the ball between the two circles as many times as possible within a certain time.
- 2) Position a player between the two circles who runs to touch the ball while it is being passed around.
- 3) Have the group use the ball to try to tag a player running between the circles.
- 4) Have the group form two sets of concentric circles, each with its own ball. The groups race to see which one can do a set number of laps in the shortest time.

BETWEEN THE LINES

- 1) Players form two lines facing each other. Each line is given several balls. Four players then try to run the length of the two lines without being tagged by the balls being thrown at them. Balls must not leave the ground.
- 2) Give each player a number, place two balls between the lines and call out two numbers at a time. The players whose numbers are called run for the ball, then race back to their line with the ball between them, hoping to be the fastest team.

TAG CIRCLE

A group of players form a circle around three other players. Players push or hit the ball along the ground with their hands in an attempt to tag a player in the middle of the circle. If a player tags someone in the center, he or she takes that person's place. Players in the center of the circle try to avoid being tagged.

TAG BALL

Players pair up and must hold hands (or ring) or hook elbows. To start, two pairs are each given a ball and then push or hit the ball along the ground with their hands to try to tag other pairs with the ball. Pairs in possession of the ball do not have to stay together. When a pair is tagged or let go of each other, it becomes their turn to tag the others.

COOPERATIVE CORRIDORS

Have the group form four lines in order to create two corridors. Players from each team move the ball from one end of their corridor to the other, in different positions; standing up, seated, lying down, back to back, or using different methods; with the hands or the feet, rolling the ball, in the air or dribbling.

NO HANDS

Four to six players practice handling the giant ball, preventing it from touching the ground without using their arms or hands. Techniques can include use of the head, the back, the chest or the feet, or the use of positions such as the wheelbarrow, stretcher, horseback, etc.

MOONWALK

A group of 4 to 6 players cooperate to help a team mate, crouched on hands and knees on top of the ball, to roll it backwards. Another player walks facing the team mate who is on top of the ball to help the player stay on the ball. The others position themselves around the ball, helping the moonwalker to stay balanced on the ball while it is in motion.

- 2) Other game, each team has a ball, 3 players make continual kick-offs. Each time the ball is caught in the air, the opposing team gets 1 point, 2 points if the ball is caught off a bounce.
