Find your scholarship opportunity

The Rhode Island Foundation, the largest and most comprehensive funder of nonprofit organizations in Rhode Island, manages more than 150 scholarship and fellowship funds. We offer assistance for middle school to post-graduate levels, certificate programs, and a variety of fields of study and interest areas.

Dozens of generous individual, family, and organizational donors have established scholarship funds with us to help students like you defray educational expenses such as tuition, fees, and books.

In addition to general scholarship assistance, the Foundation offers a number of awards for students studying everything from social work and the arts to textile technology and filmmaking.
