At Robert E. Cashion Elementary, we have a quote from Henry Ford that sums up our philosophy for our school community: “Coming Together is a Beginning. Keeping Together is Progress. Working Together is Success.” We believe the school, family, and community must share the educational responsibility of our students. We realize there are students still needing to close the basic skill gap. However, we are also aware of the need to rapidly expand our opportunities for all of our students to attain the world-class skills and life and career characteristics of the Profile of the South Carolina Graduate. To this end, we at Robert E. Cashion Elementary, with the assistance of the family and community, are dedicated to finding and implementing ways to help our students develop these skills.

Student Support Services

- School Counseling: The primary goal of the school counseling program is to support the academic achievement of all students. In order to accomplish this goal, developmental counseling services are provided which focus on the academic, career, and personal/social development of students. The School counselor provides a variety of services through the counseling program. Among these services are Classroom Counseling, Small Group Counseling, and Individual Counseling.
- Classroom Counseling: The school counselor teaches whole-group lessons to each class of students on a monthly schedule. The lessons are aligned with the standards from the American School Counseling Association (ASCA) and take place in the counselor's classroom.
- Small Group Counseling: Small groups consist of six to eight students usually from the same grade level and include topics such as study skills and other topics that students have in common. Group members have the opportunity to learn and grow from each other.
- Individual Counseling: Individual counseling sessions are provided throughout the school year to discuss and develop strategies that relate to personal matters concerning students. This service is provided on a short-term basis and could sometimes result in a referral to outside resources. Students can refer themselves or a parent, teacher, or administrator can refer them.
- Social Work Services: Robert E. Cashion Elementary has a social worker through Title I funds. The social worker provides intervention services to assist students in reaching their maximum potential by identifying, assessing and resolving barriers that interfere with student academic achievement, attendance and school adjustment. These services include making home visits to help both the school and the families understand each other, arranging parent conferences, promoting regular attendance, and referring parents to appropriate agencies for assistance.
- Mental Health Counseling: Robert E. Cashion also has a school-based mental health counselor, employed by Piedmont Mental Health Center. The program provides early identification and intervention in emotional disturbances and assists parents, teachers, and counselors in developing comprehensive strategies to resolve these disturbances. School-based mental health services provide both individual and family therapy.
- The Cashion Comet Award: The Cashion Comet Awards is a part of our Character Education Recognition program. During our daily news show, students recite our Cashion Comet Pledge where students state that they will be safe, responsible, respectful Cashion Comets. This helps to remind students how to guide their actions and interactions throughout the day while at school. During our three school-wide ceremonies throughout the year, one student is recognized from each homeroom class who demonstrates the traits of being safe, responsible, and respectful. Parents are invited to attend the ceremony to surprise their student who is receiving the award, as it is kept as a secret from the student who is receiving it. Students and staff members thoroughly enjoy this recognition program for all students who achieve it.
- PTA: PTA has played an essential role in providing engaging and empowering family events to broaden and enhance our school community. Some of the events include: PTA Back to School Supplies, Back to School Packets, Open House, Fall Fundraiser, Fall Festival, Red Ribbon Week activities, Spirit Wear/School Store, Yearbook, Holiday Shoppe, Sweetheart Dance, Literacy March Madness, Concessions, Volunteer Appreciation, PTA Meetings (6 times a year), Spring Block Party, Field Day, Newsletters
- School Improvement Council: SIC has been instrumental in facilitating outreach to the community. Parent committee members are involved in developing collaborative improvement plans with teachers and staff in a supportive environment. In addition, parent members help coordinate volunteer efforts such as mentoring opportunities and the development of potential community sponsors. Beautification of the campus is achieved through a partnership with Trees Greenville to plant trees around the school.

Student Activities

- Cashion Step Team: The Cashion Step Team is a group of highly motivated, school spirited, respectful 3-5th graders who perform during our school's talent show and other school-related activities. Members of the Cashion Step Team are to promote school and team spirit, creativity, community service, and to enhance the unity and promotion of individual skills into team performance. All Cashion Step Team Members are held to high academic and behavioral standards. Step Team members are expected to faithfully abide by the rules and regulations of the team and school. They are also required to demonstrate exceptional moral character, in and out of school, and must always display good sportsmanship.
- Cashion Chorus & Drum Club: The Cashion Chorus & Drum Club is an extracurricular music group of fourth and fifth grade students. The size of this ensemble varies from year to year, based on auditions in the fall. Students meet twice a week before school hours. Rehearsals run from October through May. Students develop music reading skills, performance etiquette, and they learn how to best utilize their singing voice, or learn how to play drums. The Cashion Chorus performs several times each school year for the school and community.
- I'm a Lady Group: I'm a Lady is a group of young ladies striving to learn more about themselves and development of the whole girl. They are advised by our school's Assistant Principal, School Counselor, Instructional Coach, and Title I Facilitator. The group of ladies and advisors meet bi-monthly to offer opportunities for the girls to learn about etiquette, being a good friend, carrying yourself as a young lady, self-image, self-hygiene, etc. The goal of the I'm a Lady group is to help young ladies learn more about themselves and discover their inherent strengths and value themselves.
- Safety Patrol: We have a selected group of 5th grade students that are a part of our school Safety Patrol. These patrols open car doors in the morning and afternoon as students arrive and dismiss each day. Our safety patrols are also responsible for putting up and taking down the American and SC flag every day.
- Running Club/Girls on the Run: Girls in 3-5th grade can participate in a running club called Girls on the Run. They learn about character education, friendship, and health as they prepare to run a 5K at the end of their season. This club is coached by various teachers from within the school, and takes place after school.
- REC News Show: Our 5th grade students audition for the Morning News Show. Those who make the team participate by being news anchors on our REC Morning Show. They present the Word of the Day, lead the school in the Pledge of Allegiance, the School Pledge, and the Moment of Silence. They communicate important news to the school including the weather, field trips, Character Building information, and College and Career information.
- After School Program: We offer a fee-based After School Program for our families who need after school care for their children at our school. While the students are in our After School Program they receive a healthy snack from the cafeteria. Homework assistance is offered for each student. Students participate in activities in the gym, cafeteria, library, and computer lab. The profit the school makes is spent back into the school for a variety of ways to support our students and staff.

Academic Programs

Special Education:

Our three resource teachers work closely with the general classroom teachers with accommodations and strategies to help the resource student achieve success in the least restrictive educational environment. Some students are served directly within the special education classroom using the Reading Horizons Program. These students are taught deficit skills in small instructional level groups. When appropriate, our resource teachers use the Inclusion Model. The inclusion model requires much less transitioning because the resource teacher comes into the general education classroom. Inclusion includes a mixture of co-teaching and small group instruction. The Indirect Model (Consultative) is also used at Robert E. Cashion Elementary. This model allows the resource student to remain in the general classroom with support given to the general classroom teacher in the form of strategies, support materials, and current research on how best to teach the student. We feel that students should always be in the least restrictive environment and these special placements and accommodations allow our students to reach their academic potential. (PL94-142, Individuals with Disabilities Education Act—IDEA)

At Robert E. Cashion Elementary School, the needs of our special education students with mild to moderate disabilities are served in four self-contained classroom settings. Robert E. Cashion Elementary School has a primary (K-2) and intermediate (2-5) Multi-Categorical class and a primary and intermediate ID MOD class. All students in these classes have Individual Education Plans that are specific to their individual academic needs. The teachers of these exceptional children are certified in special education. The teachers focus on the academic goals as outlined by each student's IEP, but give additional attention to developing the emotional and social behaviors of the students, as well. Teachers in these classrooms utilize specialized programs such as "Touch Math", multi-sensory phonics instruction, SPIRE, Reading Horizons, and other approaches which accommodate different learning styles and modalities of special needs students. All Multi-Cat self-contained special education students are mainstreamed with regular education students into all Related Arts classes. Some students are mainstreamed into regular education classrooms for content areas when specified in their IEP. ID MOD students have a separate related arts but are mainstreamed as much as possible. They also participate fully in school-wide activities, programs, and field trips. High expectations coupled with a rigorous "individualized" curriculum ensure success for all our special needs students.

Literacy Instruction:

We believe that strong literacy instruction is of central importance to our curriculum vision and goals. In each grade level, teachers implement the literacy framework as shared by the Greenville County Schools Academics Department. Students receive direct, standards based instruction through workshop models for Reading and Writing. During this time, teachers conduct mini lessons, provide independent reading and writing time, and pull small groups for targeted instruction based on skills or strategies of which they require more support. Students are explicitly taught strategies for phonics and word study.

During the 2023-2024 school year, the district has adopted a new reading curriculum that aligns with new state literacy standards. All teachers in K-3 will be LETRS trained. The Lexia LETRS Suite is a comprehensive professional learning program designed to provide early childhood and elementary educators and administrators with deep knowledge to be literacy and language experts in the science of reading.

Response to Intervention:

The goal of the Response to Intervention (RTI) program is to accelerate students' reading ability by increasing their skills in phonics, reading fluency, sight word recognition, and reading comprehension. The intent is for students to improve their reading skills, so that they can access grade level material.

Students are identified for the program through benchmark screenings in fall and winter. Students' reading levels, teacher recommendations, past participation in the RTI program, and Mastery Connect Scores are used in the decision-making process. Students who score "High Risk" or below the 25th percentiles are considered for inclusion in RTI. Intervention groups are formed based upon the needs of the students. Groupings are flexible to most closely meet student abilities and needs.

All interventionists serve students using the Reading Horizons Program. Groups in grades k-3 are served for 30 minutes four or five days per week. Groups in grades 4-5 are served for 30 minutes 2-5 times per week. Pacing is determined by student mastery of skills.

Students are progress monitored every two weeks. Parents receive a progress monitoring update after each progress monitoring assessment. Interventionists meet to discuss student progress or lack thereof. Students who make acceptable progress are dismissed from RTI. Students who are dismissed from the program continue to be progress monitored for 3 data points. If they fall below their goal line and/or if their classroom performance declines, they may be replaced into an RTI group. Reviews are also completed for students who fall below expectations on their goal line or who are not making expected progress. Adjustments are made for these students. They may be any one of the following, but are not limited to: targeted ideas given to classroom teachers, parent contact made, the student may be moved into a different group, or the student may be referred to OnTrack.

English for Speakers of Other Languages Program (ML):

The Multilingual Learner (ML) Program at Robert E. Cashion Elementary School began in August of 2005. There is currently one full time ML teacher serving 102 students who represent various nationalities from around the world and speak languages such as Arabic, Spanish, and German. Teaching MLs at Robert E. Cashion allows the teacher to help each ML student make gains in their language acquisition through the following: one-on-one and small group instruction through the ML pull out model, meeting with parents to discuss their child's progress, assisting the administration staff with Power School codes, keeping the student's cumulative records updated, testing of all new ML students' language acquisition level, collaborating with the student's teacher, arranging for volunteers to work with the students individually, providing teachers with resources to use in class with the LEP student, meeting a broad range of learning styles of the LEP students through strategies such as guided reading, writer's workshop, hands on manipulatives, internet, and making modifications where needed to insure the students' success in their regular classroom. Having an ML program at Robert E. Cashion Elementary has been vital in sustaining the progress and filling in the academic gaps of the LEP students. There has been growth in LEP students, not only in their academic progress, but also their social and emotional well-being due to the opportunity for them to gain extra assistance in their language acquisition.

The ML academic assistance model is our main avenue of serving the ML students. The one-on-one and small group ML instruction outside of the regular classroom has proven to be vital in filling in the learning gaps of these students. Grade appropriate curriculum and materials can be used to meet the student's reading, writing, and speaking level more effectively in small groups versus an entire classroom of students. Upon enrolling in our ML program, each student is tested on their language acquisition level using the W-APT - Individualized Proficiency Test. In the spring of each school year, the students test using the ACCESS Assessment to measure progress from year to year. These scores help to determine how many minutes per week of direct ML instruction each LEP student needs to receive to insure academic progress. After reviewing the students' scores and conferencing with their teachers, it is determined how much time each student needs to be pulled out of their regular classroom on an individual basis. ML classes integrate age appropriate activities with grade appropriate skills. Guided reading, writer's workshop, phonics, vocabulary skills, survival English, language arts and reading skills are used to meet state and national standards. Along with the end of the year ACCESS testing, teacher made writing rubrics, daily oral language, quizzes, observation through group games, and running records are used to measure the students' progress. Bilingual progress reports are used to communicate the LEP students' progress to their parents and teachers.

In order to effectively serve the ML students at Robert E. Cashion Elementary School and support the faculty and staff, the ML teacher continues to help each ML student:

- make gains in their language acquisition through one-on-one and small group instruction through the ESOL academic assistance model

- meeting with parents to discuss their child's progress
- assisting the attendance clerk with PowerSchool codes
- keeping the students' cumulative records updated
- testing of all new ESOL students' language acquisition level
- collaborating with the student's teacher
- arranging volunteers to work with the students individually
- providing teachers with resources to use in class with the ML student
- meeting a broad range of learning styles of the ML students through strategies such as guided reading, writer's workshop, hands on manipulatives,
- making modifications where needed to insure the student's success in their regular classroom
- Coordinating student use of digital software

Gifted/Talented:

In November of each year, the State Department of Education provides testing for students in grades two to determine their eligibility for Gifted and Talented Programs. The Iowa, an achievement test, and the Cognitive Abilities Test (CogAT) an aptitude test, are administered to all public school students enrolled in grade two. These results are available by mid-January.

Beginning in grade three, students who meet the state criteria may be placed in the academically gifted and talented program. This program is called "Challenge" in Greenville County Schools.

At the elementary level, Challenge is a pull-out program. In third grade students attend Challenge for at least 125 minutes each week. Students in grades four and five attend Challenge for at least 200 minutes each week. Each school has a Challenge teacher based upon the number of qualified students in that school. Students are taught classes with a teacher/pupil ratio of 1 to 20 or less.

Robert Cashion Elementary also participates in a "Trial Placement" program which is an optional program where students are placed on a trial basis into the school's Challenge program. Students must meet one of the two state criteria and may only be placed for one year. Robert Cashion Elementary had 13 students in our trial placement program for the 2024-2025 school year.

Second Step:

Beginning in the 2021-2022 school year, our Counselor rolled out the Second Step Social and Emotional Learning program. Teachers guide students through 20 lessons in the Second Step online platform with focus on growth mindset & goal setting, emotional management, empathy & kindness, and problem solving.

Coaching Cycles:

The Instructional Coach conducts student centered coaching cycles with all teachers in the building. Teachers take part in a 4-6 week coaching cycle in a subject area of their choice or need. This includes personalized planning with the instructional coach, modeled lessons, co-teaching, or other observational strategies, data analysis, and reflection. Other types of coaching cycles that teachers may participate in are mini coaching cycles, technology coaching, curriculum and unit planning, and data analysis. Coaching is also conducted based on school needs assessments and goals, learning walks, and instructional rounds. The Instructional Coach works closely with administration and conducts coaching based on needs from administration's observations. This targeted approach helps grow student success and instructional practices.

Media Center

Collection Development Plan: The Media Center at Robert E Cashion Elementary began a five-year collection development plan in 2022-2023. We have identified and prioritized the main areas of need for each school year, with some areas of need extending over multiple years. The plan is as follows:

Year One: 2022-23 – Fiction (chapter books) grades 2-5 / picture books

Year Two: 2023-24 – Picture books / graphic novels

Year Three: 2024-25 – 636 (pets) / 790s (sports)

Year Four: 2025-26 – 550-599 (plants and animals)

Year Five: 2026-27 - 500-549 (general science) / 398 (fairy tales)

Our goal is to update our collection to include the newest titles in popular series, as well as purchasing entire series that are missing. We will continue to target a wide range of reading levels, so that lower grades can begin to explore and get excited about more complex chapter stories. We are weeding out old series like Junie B Jones and Capital Mysteries and replacing them with newer titles like Owl Diaries and Yasmin. Graphic novels are very high interest and popular and need to be added every year, but will be specifically targeted in 2024.

Allocation: The Media Center collection development allocation varies each year. Due to our construction and expansion in 2022-2024, the library was given over $100k to update our collection. Books have been heavily weeded and replacements have been added over 2022-2024.

Grant: In 2023 the library was awarded the Robbie Van Pelt Grant for $500. It was used to fund a summer reading incentive.

Scholastic dollars: The media center currently has $300 in Scholastic dollars, which are used exclusively for collection development.

Instruction and Technology: Our Media Center has a fixed/flex (A/B) schedule where each class is seen once every two weeks. This provides each student with an opportunity to check out books regularly. In addition to providing time to check out books during class, students are also welcome during all flex hours to come in individually to check out books or use other resources. The Media Specialist has Chromebooks for swap/repair for students, and has cataloged all digital devices for the school. The Media Specialist manages chromebooks (all personalized learning devices) for all students. Students use these devices daily within their learning, and teachers continue to receive training and support for instruction with technology. Greenville County Schools is now an e-Learning district, so these devices are used to continue instruction on eLearning days (ex: inclement weather).

Reading Programs: Each year the Media Specialist works with a team of teachers to participate in the annual Battle of the Books competition. A team of several students are selected to read ten South Carolina Children's Book Award nominees; the team meets every day starting in January. Practices consist of updates on reading goals, exchanging books, and answering practice questions. We "battle" another team in the county in a quiz-bowl type competition each April.

South Carolina Picture Book Award: Each year the Media Specialist reads all 20 SCPBA nominees to grades K-2. The Media Specialist collaborates with classroom teachers and helps facilitate language arts and reading standards with read-alouds of the SCPBA books. After all 20 books are completed, the students vote on which was their favorite. Our students' votes are submitted to the South Carolina

Association of School Librarians for a statewide vote.

Read Across America Book Bracket: The Media Specialist chooses the 4 most popular SCPBA picture books of the year to feature in a book bracket for Read Across America Week. Each book is presented as a read aloud on the morning news and students vote for their favorite.

Summer Reading: In 2023 our summer reading program was completely revamped. Students are given the opportunity to hear 5 read-alouds through our website or choose 5 books of their own to read. They recorded their books on our summer reading website (or on paper) and turned them in by the 2nd week of school. If we reach 300+ students participating, we can celebrate. Students earn a big “experience” rather than small prizes. 2023 was a reptile show and 2024 will be a petting zoo.

Teacher and Administrator Quality

All teachers must participate in a minimum of 24 hours of professional development during each school year. Professional development may include workshops, conferences, in-services, and coursework. At least 12 of these 24 hours are offered by the school. This is a minimum requirement and does not limit the authority of the principal to require additional training to meet individual and school needs. This is a fluid schedule and subject to change as the need arrives.

The Professional Development calendar for 2024-2025 is reflective of teacher survey results from the previous year, and data analysis to determine areas for growth. During the 2023-2024 our school focused on building wide behavior management through Conscious Discipline. This training is a three year commitment. We will continue our work during the 2024-2025 school year with year two Conscious Discipline training.

We know the importance of assisting teachers in understanding curriculum and programs, and that there will always be innovative and new ideas that can benefit our students. We will continue to make learner-driven, evidence-informed decisions for growth this year and in years to come.

requirement for facilities. Adding this very small number of students has not impacted program quality or instructional implementation, as evidenced by KRA readiness data. Each 4K class includes one early childhood certified teacher and one instructional aide, both of whom receive annual training specific to high quality early childhood programming. The increase of classroom size from 20 to 23 is well under the SDE 5K maximum class size of 30 and is lower than the GCS maximum 5K class size of 26. In addition, the SC Child Care Licensing Standards have an even higher staffing ratio of one adult for 17 children.
