

Teaching Others

After a person teaches another, both learn, but the “teacher” often learns as much as the other students. Because of this, you will be teaching one adult a science concept you’ve learned in class every week. This is a homework grade.

[illegible]