Pros and Cons of Community College First

Pros

- Starting in a smaller setting can make a big difference.
- Lowers cost
- Increased flexibility (i.e. more night classes) and smaller class sizes
- Work opportunities with a 2 year associate's degree
- Chance to improve your grades
- No SAT/ACT required

Cons

- Limited curriculum (there may be more general education course offerings you're interested in at a 4 year university)
 - You might have to retake some classes or test out of them (if going out of state)
 - Clubs, extracurricular activities, and forming bonds with your cohort might not happen as easily.

G3 Program through Laurel Ridge

Who is eligible for the G3 Program?

Any Virginia resident who:

- Qualifies for in-state tuition
- Has a total household income of less than or equal to 400% of the Federal Poverty Level (roughly an income of $100,000 for a family of four)
- Is enrolled for a minimum of six credit hours in a Virginia community college
- Is enrolled in a designated G3 program
- Has applied for federal and/or state financial aid programs.

What are the designated programs?

- Healthcare
- Information Technology
- Manufacturing and Skilled Trades
- Early Childhood Education
- Public Safety

How does tuition assistance work?

G3 Program funds make up the difference between what federal or state financial aid pays for and the cost of tuition, fees, and books for the program.

Virginia College Profiler

There are many important factors in choosing a college. How you fit in academically and the cost of attendance (COA) are important considerations. The charts in this section provide some of the information you need to compare colleges on these factors.

MANY COLLEGES HAVE ELIMINATED ACT/SAT TEST REQUIREMENTS. CHECK <https://fairplay.org/highereducation/> FOR A CURRENT LIST OF TEST-OPTIONAL COLLEGES. ALWAYS VERIFY TEST REQUIREMENTS WITH THE COLLEGE'S ADMISSIONS OFFICE.

Public Universities	Students Enrolled by 2022-2023 Academic Year*				Estimated 2024-2025 [†] COA before Tuition and Aid
	Test scores and high school grade point averages are provided to show you how your scores compare to those of students who enrolled in selected Virginia colleges. Some students had lower scores and GPAs, while other students had higher scores and GPAs.	20th 25th Percentile	50th 50th Percentile	High School GPA 75th Percentile

* Test scores and GPAs were obtained from the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia (SCHEV) website. SAT scores are a combination of the reading, writing, and math scores.

[†] Cost of attendance (COA) provided by each college to the State Council of Higher Education for Virginia (SCHEV). Costs are for full-time students and include state tuition, mandatory fees, and average on-campus housing and food. Discussed above do not include all components of the COA, such as non-mandatory fees, program-specific fees, transportation, personal expenses, books and school supplies.

[‡] Does not include average housing and food costs.

What a student actually pays (net price) can be lower than the cost of attendance due to a variety of factors. Find more information about Virginia colleges tuition, fees, and net price by viewing the 2023-24 Tuition and Fees at Virginia State-Supported Colleges and Universities report at www.schev.edu/research-publications/reports-and-publications.
