Mr. Ray and Mrs. Mulligan presented an overview of the assessment data from spring 2024.

Elementary points to celebrate: 6th grade ELA and Math Scores are fourth in the county; Fraser scores are consistently above the State and County in Math; any grade level below state and county averages is within four percentage points.

Elementary next steps: Continued investment in consistent literacy resources across Y5-6; updated 21st century curriculum; high dosage tutoring – supported by the MISD – expanded to math for all grades; every teacher to attend K-5 literacy training at MISD.

Secondary points to celebrate: SAT-EBRW Scores continue to increase and exceed state and county levels; SAT-Math scores had nearly an 8% increase in students proficient or above and total score being above state and county levels; M-Step Science continued an upward trend and remains above state and county scores; ELA 7 had an 12% increase and remains above state and county; ELA 8 had an 11% increase and moved above state and county; Math 7 remained above state and county and Math 8 remained even with state and county despite going through a change in curriculum.

Secondary next steps: Begin having staff focus on lesson design through the UDL lens; continue to work with the RMS/FHS math staff on engagement strategies and deep-thinking models; revisit the whole school assessment strategy plans now to extend the amount of time students practice (this started in January last year); Create a focused Xello curriculum to facilitate purpose-driven student habits in relation to careers and scheduling.
