

Digital Photography Shadow Art

For this assignment you and your group are going to make shadow puppet art. The interesting thing about this project is that it is solely up to the photographer to capture the moment of the objects being cast onto the wall in shadow form.

Experiment with the shadows. Create an interesting scene. Add more to the scene. Or create another scene. How can you make a creative picture that tells a story? Does your scene spark the imagination of the viewer?

How can we use what we know about the elements of art and design in our artwork?

View this Tutorial: Shadow Puppetry Tutorial

You will need a piece of paper or a cardboard box to cut up into shapes. You will also need a strong lamp or flashlight that you will use to project light onto your strong shaped item to create a shadow on the wall. You may use other backdrops as needed.

Take as many photos as you need to get one amazing shot!

Turn in your very best edited shot to our Google Slideshow Shadows 3: Puppetry

