When you find a term, drag a yellow or teal box and resize as needed.
 Move a star next to each term you find, so you know what you have left to look for.

Good Sports and Sore Losers

Instructions: Choose one of these three scenarios, then write what a good sport would do and what a sore loser would do, as well as what might happen as a result those actions. (Drag the star next to the one you choose.)

Scenario 1: It's the bottom of the 9th inning, the bases are loaded, and your teammate Keith comes up to bat. You know that if Keith gets a hit, your team will win. Keith strikes out. Your team loses.

Scenario 2: You're playing basketball with neighborhood friends. The other team makes a basket that you think shouldn't count. The other team insists does.

Scenario 3: Your soccer team made it to the semi-finals. You're playing the toughest team in the league and you're down by four goals. There are 3 minutes left in the game. The coach takes you out so one of your teammates who rarely plays can get on the field.

What would a good sport do?	What might happen next?
What would a sore loser do?	What might happen next?
