- 2) The main menu will appear after the introduction and there will be a variety of choices. To begin you want to click the icon that says Create a Story as shown below.

- 3) The title page will be the first that appears and here is where the author puts their name, the title, and any comments. Adding a border to the title page is easy; follow the following steps to add a border.

The Border panel shown below will display various borders that can be used. When you select your border, click on it and press the blue plus sign below and that will add the border to your title page. After the correct border has been chosen click the green check mark and you are complete.

- 4) Here is a shot of the title page and further explanations of some of the dynamics of the program.

- 5) The information given so far is just the basics of the program. Now, you have the opportunity to take and explore further. The objects that are put in the program can be moved, manipulated, and even made bigger and smaller. Explore the program and use the tools to create a story.
