

STUDENT ACCESS PROGRAM

A project between Farmville Public Library and Pitt County Schools

What is STUDENT ACCESS?

A student library account that allows all Pitt County Schools students access to print and online materials from the Farmville Public Library.

Why make resources available through STUDENT ACCESS?

Farmville Public Library wants to see all PCS students succeed. By making the Library's vast resources available - both traditional and online - students will have more academic and recreational resources to choose from for their learning endeavors.

How does it work and when will it start?

All PCS students are automatically enrolled in STUDENT ACCESS with their student ID numbers serving as their library account numbers - unless they opt out. Students may bring their student ID number to the library to check out materials, or library staff will look up their account.

For online resources that require a pin number, students can use the last 4 digits of their student ID number as their pin. PCS student files will be updated quarterly to ensure up-to-date records.
