Tuyen Duddles to receive Outstanding Educator Award at Women Rock Science fundraiser

Warren, MI – Tuyen Duddles, 7th and 8th grade instructor at the Warren Consolidated Schools Middle School Math Science Technology Center, will receive the Outstanding Educator Award at the Women Rock Science fundraiser, hosted by Cranbrook Institute of Science on October 7.

Women Rock Science is a women-led fundraising event that aims to celebrate women in STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Mathematics) and ignite curiosity in children.

The Women Rock Science gala recognizes three individuals who are making a difference in the fields of Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Mathematics through an Outstanding Educator, Outstanding Leader, and Rock Star Award.

“I am amazed and humbled to be recognized for doing with I love, which is teaching Science and working with students.” Duddles said.

Duddles has been with WCS for the past 12 years. She is currently in her ninth year at the Middle School Math Science Technology Center.
